A Semantic and Structural Analysis of Ephesians Edna Johnson, 2008 The books in this series are analytical commentaries on the Greek text of New Testament books Each book first identifies the high level semantic components of the text and indicates the relationships between them These components are then further analyzed to identify sub components and their relationships This process is continued until the basic units of communication called propositions are identified These propositions are stated in semantically unskewed English glosses Theme statements for paragraphs and larger units are derived from the analysis A discussion of the evidence supporting the analysis is also given

Discourse Features of New Testament Greek Stephen H. Levinsohn, 2025-03-31 This coursebook is designed to be used in connection with lectures and discussion groups or in a self instruction environment The book takes a functional approach and builds on the principle that choice implies meaning Each chapter presents one or more discourse features of Koine Greek that have been shown to make a significant contribution to the exegesis of the Greek New Testament Part I discusses default orders of constituents in clauses sentences and phrases together with the significance of marked orders Part II identifies the constraint that each common conjunction imposes on how readers are to relate the sentence concerned to its context Part III considers patterns of reference including why once participants have been introduced they are sometimes referred to only in the verb and sometimes by means of a pronoun or noun phrase as well It also addresses the significance of omitting the article when referring to activated participants or concepts Part IV describes some features that have the effect of backgrounding or highlighting information such as the encoding of information in a participial or relative clause and the use of the historical present Part V considers how different ways of introducing reported speeches reflect their status in stories It also discusses the motivations for reporting conversation directly versus indirectly and the significance of introducing direct speech with recitativum The final part reviews criteria that may be cited to support or reject the segmenting of passages into sub units Readers need a basic knowledge of introductory Greek and discourse analysis All examples in the text are provided with a word by word translation Review questions and suggested answers are provided to assist in applying the principles In this edition the content has been extensively reviewed and polished including errata corrections from the prior edition

Paul and his Theology Stanley E. Porter,2006-11-01 Does Paul have a theology If so what is it or rather what is it on various topics that he and the early Church confronted This volume moves beyond the traditional discussion of whether Paul had a center to his theology to raise questions regarding his perspective on a number of important theological issues These issues include his gentile mission the concepts of faith grace and the law reconciliation the temple eschatology miracles gender and Paul s trinitarian tendencies This collection of essays addresses topics of current interest in the study of Paul s theology not to arrive at the center of his thought but to understand what factors helped to center his thinking on a variety of important theological concerns

Suffering in the Face of Death Bryan R. Dyer,2017-04-20 Suffering and death are two topics that are frequently referred to in the Epistle to the Hebrews but have rarely been examined within scholarship on this important New Testament text Dyer redresses the balance in this study of these topics conducting a thorough investigation using semantic domain analysis He incorporates recent advancements in modern linguistics in particular the context of situation and then connects these topics to the social situation addressed in Hebrews In so doing he is able to reveal how the author is responding to the reality of suffering in the lives of his audience With this awareness it becomes clear how the author also responds to his audience s pain by creating models of endurance in suffering and death These serve to motivate his audience toward similar endurance within their own social context Dyer shows that it is possible to make significant determinations about the social setting of Hebrews based upon an examination and analysis of the language used therein

The Gospel of Matthew Watson E. Mills,1993 Colossians 1:15-20 and Philippians 2:6-11

Andrew C. L. Hwang,1992 Interpreting the New Testament Text Darrell L. Bock,Buist M. Fanning,2006-10-20 With the explosive increase in availability of English Bible translations the question can easily be asked Why bother with the hard work of biblical exegesis Computers can translate foreign languages and our English texts can take us very close to the original meanings so why exegete Answer because the deepest truths of the Bible are found through the deepest study This book teaches the principles methods and fundamentals of exegeting the New Testament It also has examples of textual exegesis that clearly and helpfully show the value of exegeting a text well Any serious student of Scripture would benefit from utilizing this book in the study of the Bible

The Anchor Bible: Romans ,1964 The Anchor Yale Bible is a fresh approach to the world s greatest classic Its object is to make the Bible accessible to the modern reader its method is to arrive at the meaning of biblical literature through exact translation and extended exposition and to reconstruct the ancient setting of the biblical story as well as the circumstances of its transcription and the characteristics of its transcribers It is a project of international and interfaith scope Protestant Catholic and Jewish scholars from many countries contribute individual

Osborne,2004 Since 1970 there have been far reaching changes in the way the New Testament is studied This text provides detailed overviews on what has been happening in this area over the last 30 years The Correspondence Between Peter the Venerable and Bernard of Clairvaux Gillian R. Knight,2002 Starting from the premise of the letter as literary artefact with a potential for ambiguity irony and textual allusion this innovative analysis of the correspondence between the Cluniac abbot Peter the Venerable and the future saint Bernard of Clairvaux challenges the traditional use of these letters as a source for historical and auto biographical reconstruction Applying techniques drawn from modern theories of epistolarity and contemporary literary criticism to letters treated as whole constructs Knight demonstrates the presence of a range of manipulative strategies and argues for the consequent production of a significant degree of fictionalisation She traces the emergence of an epistolary sequence which forms a kind of extended narrative drawing its authority from Augustine and Jerome and rooted in classical rhetoric The work raises important implications both for the study of relations between Cluniacs and Cistercians in the first half of the 12th century and for the approach to letter writing as a whole Colossians 1:15-20 and Philippians 2:6-11 Zhulun Huang,1994 Cumulated Index to the Books ,1999 Explorations in Exegetical Method Moisés Silva,1996 This volume plows new ground by focusing on exegetical method using one of Paul s letters thus enabling the method to be worked out in greater detail and with more consistency than is possible in a traditional textbook on exegesis A Discourse Analysis of Philippians Jeffrey Reed,1997-02-01 This large scale work is the application of modern theories of discourse analysis to questions of Greek grammar especially with respect to the debate over the
