The Blue Moon David Anderson, 1919 Personal Narrative of Travels to the Equinoctial Regions of the New Continent During the Years 1799-1804 Alexander von Humboldt, Aimé Bonpland, 1826 Alexander von Humboldt's account of his monumental scientific expedition to South America and Cuba Originally published in French between 1814 and 1825 this is the first edition in English This classic of scientific exploration was based on the researches of Humboldt and his companion Aim Bonpland during their five year excursion in South and Central America from 1799 to 1804 The volumes describe the voyage from Spain and the stop in the Canaries Tobago and the first steps in South America explorations along the Orinoco Colombia and the area around Caracas explorations in the northern Andes and a visit to Cuba Humboldt and Bonpland traveled widely through South and Central America studying meteorological phenomena and exploring wild and uninhabited country At Callao Humboldt measured the temperatures of the ocean current which came to bear his name Hill Blue Moon over Cuba William B Ecker USN (ret.), Kenneth V. Jack, Michael Dobbs, 2013-03-20 Blue Moon over Cuba is the only known personal account of the lead photographic reconnaissance squadron during the Cuban Missile Crisis Most books on the Cuban Missile Crisis tell the story using the memoirs of those who advised President Kennedy as he struggled to avoid World War III This book details the scouting of dangerous low level operations and flying the supersonic RF 8A Crusader during the classified Operation Blue Moon The Central Intelligence Agency's CIA high altitude Lockheed U 2 spy plane discovered the presence of medium range nuclear missile sites being constructed in Cuba on October 14 1962 This hard intelligence initiated the 13 day crisis that brought the world to the brink of nuclear war As the crisis progressed the need for more detailed high resolution aerial photography became apparent to the intelligence community VFP 62 and its RF 8A photo Crusader with its unique forward firing capability produced 168 000 photographs of the missile sites while being shot at by Cuban anti aircraft weapons Flying at near supersonic speeds and treetop level VFP 62 led the aerial surveillance to determine the operational status of the missile sites For their performance 12 VFP 62 and four VMCJ 2 pilots received the prestigious Distinguished Flying Cross and the squadron received the Navy Unit Commendation presented personally by President John F Kennedy Blue Moon over Cuba is an authoritative and complete account of the low level reconnaissance that might be said to have helped JFK avert nuclear Armageddon Personal Narrative of Travels to the Equinoctial Regions of the New Continent Alexander von Humboldt, Aimé Bonpland, 2011-06-02 A seven volume English translation published 1814 1829 of a major work describing Humboldt's 1799 1805 scientific expedition to South America Outdoor Advertising--the Modern Marketing Force Outdoor Advertising Association of America, 1928 PREFACE THE Author of this very practical treatise on Scotch Loch Fishing desires clearly that it may be of use to all who had it He does not pretend to have written anything new but to have attempted to put what he has to say in as readable a form as possible Everything in the way of the history and habits of fish has been studiously avoided and technicalities have been used as sparingly as possible The writing of this book has afforded him pleasure in his leisure moments and that pleasure would be much increased if he knew that the perusal of it would create any bond of sympathy between himself and the angling community in general This section is interleaved with blank sheets for the readers notes The Author need hardly say that any suggestions addressed to the case of the publishers will meet with consideration in a future edition We do not pretend to write or enlarge upon a new subject Much has been said and written and well said and written too on the art of fishing but loch fishing has been rather looked upon as a second rate performance and to dispel this idea is one of the objects for which this present treatise has been written Far be it from us to say anything against fishing lawfully practised in any form but many pent up in our large towns will bear us out when we say that on the whole a days loch fishing is the most convenient One great matter is that the loch fisher is depend ent on nothing but enough wind to curl the water and on a large loch it is very seldom that a dead calm prevails all day and can make his arrangements for a day weeks beforehand whereas the stream fisher is dependent for a good take on the state of the water and however pleasant and easy it may be for one living near the banks of a good trout stream or river it is quite another matter to arrange for a days river fishing if one is looking forward to a holiday at a date some weeks ahead Providence may favour the expectant angler with a good day and the water in order but experience has taught most of us that the good days are in the minority and that as is the case with our rapid running streams such as many of our northern streams are the water is either too large or too small unless as previously remarked you live near at hand and can catch it at its best A common belief in regard to loch fishing is that the tyro and the experienced angler have nearly the same chance in fishing the one from the stern and the other from the bow of the same boat Of all the absurd beliefs as to loch fishing this is one of the most absurd Try it Give the tyro either end of the boat he likes give him a cast of ally flies he may fancy or even a cast similar to those which a crack may be using and if he catches one for every three the other has he may consider himself very lucky Of course there are lochs where the fish are not abundant and a beginner may come across as many as an older fisher but we speak of lochs where there are fish to be caught and where each has a fair chance Again it is said that the boatman has as much to do with catching trout in a loch as the angler Well we dont deny that In an untried loch it is necessary to have the guidance of a good boatman but the same argument holds good as to stream fishing
