Plants in Contemporary Poetry John Ryan, 2017-08-15 Positioned within current ecocritical scholarship this volume is the first book-length study of the representations of plants in contemporary American English and Australian poetry Through readings of botanically minded writers including Les Murray Louise Glück and Alice

Oswald it addresses the relationship between language and the subjectivity agency sentience consciousness and intelligence of vegetal life Scientific philosophical and literary frameworks enable the author to develop an interdisciplinary approach to examining the role of plants in poetry Drawing from recent plant science and contributing to the exciting new field of critical plant studies the author develops a methodology he calls botanical criticism that aims to redress the lack of emphasis on plant life in studies of poetry As a subset of ecocriticism botanical criticism investigates how poets engage with plants literally and figuratively materially and symbolically in their works Key themes covered in this volume include plants as invasives and weeds in human settings as sources of physical and spiritual nourishment as signifiers of region home and identity as objects of aesthetics and objectivism and crucially as beings with their own perspectives voices and modes of dialogue Ryan demonstrates that poetic imagination is as essential as scientific rationality to elucidating and appreciating the mysteries of plant being This book will appeal to a multidisciplinary readership in the fields of ecocriticism ecopoetry environmental humanities and ecocultural studies and will be of interest to researchers in the emerging area of critical plant studies
