State Power, Stigmatization, and Youth Resistance Culture in the French Banlieues Hervé Tchumkam,2015-04-09 State Power Stigmatization and Youth Resistance Culture in the French Banlieues Uncanny Citizenship foregrounds the literary sociological and political structures of urban literature in France It uses postcolonial theory sociology and political philosophy to investigate the modalities surrounding the question of citizenship in a country where citizens of African descent are not only considered a threat to national identity but also caught between inclusion and exclusion By examining the literary sociological and political structures of urban literatures produced after the 2005 riots this book interrogates the questions of citizenship belonging and coexistence in a context where literature from the periphery has become a site where central political power and mainstream French literary canons are contested Moreover these productions clearly reveal an unexplored correlation between geo aesthetics and contemporary French national geopolitics Ultimately this book is a plea for a serious approach to social formation in postcolonial France in a way that transcends skin color and instead is based on a shared colonial past as well as current social disqualifications Francophone African Narratives and the Anglo-American Book Market Vivian Steemers,2021-03-01 In recent years the material circumstances governing the production of African literature have been analyzed from a variety of angles This study goes one step further by charting the trajectories of a corpus of francophone African sub Saharan narratives subsequently translated into English It examines the role of various institutional agents and agencies publishers preface writers critics translators and literary award committees involved in the value making process that accrues visibility to these texts that eventually reach the Anglo American book market The author evinces that over time different types of publishers dominated both within the original publishing space as in the foreign literary field contingent on their specific mission be it commercial ideological or educational as well as on socioeconomic and political circumstances The study addresses the influence of the editorial paratextual framing pandering to specific Western readerships the potential interventionist function of the translator and the consecrating mechanisms of literary and translation awards affecting both gender and minority representation Drawing on the work by key sociologists and translation theorists the author uses an innovative interdisciplinary methodology to analyze the corpus narratives PEN International ,2007 Includes reviews of works written in languages of lesser currency news from PEN Centres original works and papers delivered at International PEN congresses Présence Africaine ,2004 QUAND LE COQ
