Machine Hallucinations Matias del Campo,Neil Leach,2022-07-05 AI is already part of our lives even though we might not realise it It is in our phones filtering spam identifying Facebook friends and classifying our images on Instagram It is in our homes in the form of Siri Alexa and other AI assistants It is in our cars and our planes AI is literally everywhere Artworks generated by AI have won international prizes and have been sold at auction But what does AI mean for the world of design This issue of AD explores the nature of AI and considers its potential for architecture But this is no idle speculation Architects have already started using AI for architectural design and fabrication Yet astonishingly there has been almost no debate about AI within the discipline of architecture so far Surely nothing can be more important for the profession of architecture right now The issue looks at all aspects of AI its potential to assist architects in designing buildings so that it becomes a form of augmented intelligence its capacity to design buildings on its own and whether AI might open up an extraordinary new chapter in architectural design Contributors Refik Anadol Daniel Bolojan Alexa Carlson Sofia Crespo and Feileacan McCormick Gabriel Esquivel Jean Jaminet and Shane Bugni Behnaz Farahi Theodoros Galanos and Angelos Chronis Eduard Haiman Wanyu He Damjan Jovanovic and Lidija Kljakovic Immanuel Koh Maria Kuptsova Sandra Manninger Lev Manovich Achim Menges and Thomas Wortmann Wolf dPrix Karolin Schmidbaur and Efilena Baseta M Casey Rehm and Hao Zheng and Masoud Akbarzadeh Featured architects Alisa Andrasek Coop Himmelblau Lifeforms io Nonstandardstudio SPAN Kyle Steinfeld Studio Kinch and Xkool Technology

The Aesthetics of Atmospheres Gernot Böhme,2016-09-13 Interest in sensory atmospheres and architectural and urban ambiances has been growing for over 30 years A key figure in this field is acclaimed German philosopher Gernot Böhme whose influential conception of what atmospheres are and how they function has been only partially available to the English speaking public This translation of key essays along with an original introduction charts the development of Gernot Böhme's philosophy of atmospheres and how it can be applied in various contexts such as scenography commodity aesthetics advertising architecture design and art The phenomenological analysis of atmospheres has proved very fruitful and its most important and successful application has been within aesthetics The material background of this success may be seen in the ubiquitous aestheticization of our lifeworld or from another perspective of the staging of everything every event and performance The theory of atmospheres becoming an aesthetic theory thus reveals the theatrical not to say manipulative character of politics commerce of the event society But taken as a positive theory of certain phenomena it offers new perspectives on architecture design and art It made the spatial and the experience of space and places a central subject and hence rehabilitated the ephemeral in the arts Taking its numerous impacts in many fields together it initiated a new humanism the individual as a living person and his or her perspective are taken seriously and this fosters the ongoing democratization of culture in particular the possibility for everybody to participate in art and its works

Space Architecture Neil Leach, 2015-01-12 Forty years on from the first moon landing architecture in Space is entering a new era Over the last decade there has been a fundamental shift in the Space industry from short term pioneering expeditions to long term planning for colonisation and new ventures such as Space tourism Architects are now involved in designing the interiors of long term habitable structures in Space such as the International Space Station researching advanced robotic fabrication technologies for building structures on the Moon and Mars envisioning new space yachts for the super rich and building new facilities such as the Virgin Galactic Spaceport America in New Mexico designed by Foster Partners Meanwhile the mystique of Space remains as alluring as ever as high profile designers and educators such as Greg Lynn are running design studios drawing upon ever more inventive computational design techniques This issue of AD features the most significant current projects underway and highlights key areas of research in Space such as energy materials manufacture and robotics It also looks at how this research and investment in new technologies might transfer to terrestrial design and construction

Dwell, 2002-10 At Dwell we're staging a minor revolution We think that it's possible to live in a house or apartment by a bold modern architect to own furniture and products that are exceptionally well designed and still be a regular human being We think that good design is an integral part of real life And that real life has been conspicuous by its absence in most design and architecture magazines

The Architecture of Paul Rudolph Timothy M. Rohan, 2014-07-10 Equally admired and maligned for his remarkable Brutalist buildings Paul Rudolph 1918 1997 shaped both late modernist architecture and a generation of architects while chairing Yale's department of architecture from 1958 to 1965 Based on extensive archival research and unpublished materials The Architecture of Paul Rudolph is the first in depth study of the architect neglected since his postwar zenith Author Timothy M Rohan unearths the ideas that informed Rudolph's architecture from his Florida beach houses of the 1940s to his concrete buildings of the 1960s to his lesser known East Asian skyscrapers of the 1990s Situating Rudolph within the architectural discourse of his day Rohan shows how Rudolph countered the perceived monotony of mid century modernism with a dramatically expressive architecture for postwar America exemplified by his Yale Art and Architecture Building of 1963 famously clad in corrugated concrete The fascinating story of Rudolph's spectacular rise and fall considerably deepens longstanding conceptions about postwar architecture Rudolph emerges as a pivotal figure who anticipated new directions for architecture ranging from postmodernism to sustainability Metropolis, 2004 Gerald Zugmann, Blue Universe Peter Noever, Christian Reder, 2002 Design through Dialogue Karen A. Franck, Teresa von Sommaruga Howard, 2010-02-15 Completed projects receive more public attention than the process of their creation and so the myth that architects design buildings alone lives on. In fact, architects work with a great many others and the relationships that develop, particularly with clients, have a significant impact on design. Design through Dialogue explores the relationship between client and architect through the lens of four overlapping activities that occur during any project: relating, talking, exploring, and transforming. Cases of design and collaboration range from smaller-scale retail, residential, and educational projects in the US, Sweden, the UK, and the Pacific Rim to large institutions including Seattle's Central Library, the National Museum of the American Indian in Washington DC, the Supreme Court in Jerusalem, and the Museum of New Zealand. Material is taken from interviews with clients and architects and research in psychotherapy, group dynamics, and design studies. Throughout the book, aspects of process are linked to design outcomes to illustrate how architects and clients collaborate creatively.

In Praise of Penumbra
Agostino De Rosa, Alessio Bortot, Francesco Bergamo, 2023-07-11 Guest edited by Agostino De Rosa, Alessio Bortot, and Francesco Bergamo. Penumbra, from the Latin paene (almost) and umbra (shadow), can be defined as an intermediate zone of transition between light and shadow. Penumbra is therefore that space, both physical and imaginary, where everything is possible: it is the place of the uncanny where presence and/or absence can produce wonder or horror. This AD positions the presence of this archetype in the contemporary world of architecture, investigating the ways it permeates different expressive forms, from critical theory to architectural drawing, from design and planning to photography. The contributors illustrate and discuss how penumbra has shaped their creativity and modified their approach to the design process. As a physical phenomenon, penumbra has supra-historical and global connotations; nonetheless, different cultures elaborate its symbolism in different ways. Its wide semantic spectrum powerfully inspires creative forms that hover between fullness and emptiness, presence and absence, past and future. The critical perspectives in this issue offer a wide analysis of penumbra's expressive potential and the key to an in-depth understanding of this elusive layer of reality. Contributors: Matthias Brmann, Silvia Benedito, Filippo Bricolo, Edwin Carels, Javier Corvalán, Dris Kettani, Stephen Kite, Giancarlo Mazzanti, Akira Mizuta Lippit, Susanna Pisciella, Renato Rizzi, Paul O. Robinson, and Antonella Soldaini. Featured architects and artists: Alexander Savvich, Brodsky Neri, Hu Studio, Quay Brothers, Ursula Schulz-Dornburg, and Marco Tirelli.

The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and gripping novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
