

The background of the cover is a painting of a blueback fish, likely a blueback herring, in a blue and green aquatic environment. The fish is the central focus, with its head and eye clearly visible. The water is depicted with various shades of blue and green, suggesting depth and movement. The overall style is painterly and somewhat abstract, with visible brushstrokes and a soft, ethereal atmosphere.

Blueback A Fable For All Ages:

Blueback Tim Winton, 1997 An ecological novel on a boy who protects a fish from property developers and rapacious fishermen The boy who lives on a bay in Australia befriends the fish a blue grouper while diving for abalone his family's trade By the author of The Riders Blueback : a Contemporary Fable, 1997 Blueback details the life of Abel Jackson a diver and later marine biologist from when he was 10 years old into his adult life The title of the book originates from a fish Abel meets while diving in the bay near his house a giant blue grouper Abel and his mother Dora name it Blueback and they repeatedly visit it as it spends its life on the reef there Abel lives with Blueback through many hard times including protecting him from a poacher Abel grows up to become a marine biologist as a result of his passion for the sea and love of Blueback Tim Winton Lyn McCredden, Nathanael O'Reilly, 2014-08-01 Why is it that Tim Winton one of Australia's most popular and literary novelists has received little sustained critical attention This collection of essays examines the impact of Winton's work on our understanding of what it is to be Australian to be human to make and question meaning His novels and short stories are vernacular and lyrical optimistic and dark holding up a peculiarly Wintonesque mirror through which Australians and international readers differently can see themselves refracted Popular Appeal Lesley Hawkes, Vivienne Muller, Sharyn Pearce, 2013-11-18 Now is an opportune moment to consider the shifts in youth and popular culture that are signalled by texts that are being read and viewed by young people In a world seemingly compromised by climate change political and religious upheavals and economic irresponsibility and at a time of fundamental social change young people are devouring fictional texts that focus on the edges of identity the points of transition and rupture and the assumption of new and hybrid identities This book draws on a range of international texts to address these issues and to examine the ways in which key popular genres in the contemporary market for young people are being re defined and re positioned in the light of urgent questions about the environment identity one's place in the world and the fragile nature of the world itself The key questions are What are the shifts and changes in youth culture that are identified by the market and by what young people read and view How do these texts negotiate the addressing of significant questions relating to the world today Why are these texts so popular with young people What are the most popular genres in contemporary best sellers and films Do these texts have a global appeal and if so why These overarching themes and ideas are presented as a collection of inter related essays exploring a rich variety of forms and styles from graphic novels to urban realism from fantasy to dystopian writing from epic narratives to television musicals The subjects and themes discussed here reveal the quite remarkable diversity of issues that arise in youth fiction and the variety of fictional forms in which they are explored Once seen as not as important as adult fiction this book clearly demonstrates that youth fiction and the popular appeal of this fiction is complex durable and far reaching in its scope Blueback Tim Winton, 2000-10 Abel Jackson loves to dive He's a natural in the water He can't remember a time when he couldn't use a mask and snorkel to glide down into the clear deep Life is tough out at Longboat
