Animal Action:

Images Of Animals Eileen Crist, 2000-04-19 Seeing a cat rubbing against a person Charles Darwin described her as in an affectionate frame of mind for Samuel Barnett a behaviorist the mental realm is beyond the grasp of scientists and behavior must be described technically as a physical action only What difference does this difference make In Eileen Crist's analysis of the language used to portray animal behavior the difference is that in the reader's mind the very image of the cat's body is transfigured from an experiencing subject into a vacant object Images of Animals examines the literature of behavioral science revealing how works with the common aim of documenting animal lives habits and instincts describe realities that are worlds apart Whether the writer affirms the Cartesian verdict of an unbridgeable chasm between animals and humans or the Darwinian panorama of evolutionary continuity the question of animal mind is ever present and problematic in behavioral thought Comparing the naturalist writings of Charles Darwin Jean Henri Fabre and George and Elizabeth Peckham to works of classical ethology by Konrad Lorenz and Nikolaas Tinbergen and of contemporary sociobiology Crist demonstrates how words matter She does not attempt to defend any of these constructions as a faithful representation of animal existence but to show how each internally coherent view molds the reader's understanding of animals Rejecting the notion that a neutral language exists or can be constructed which yields incontestably objective accounts of animal behavior Crist argues that language is not instrumental in the depiction of animals and in particular it is never impartial with respect to the question of animal mind

Advances in Experimental Philosophy of Action Paul Henne, Samuel Murray, 2023-04-20 What is self control Does a person need to be conscious to act Are delusions always irrational Questions such as these are fundamental for investigations into action and rationality as well as how we assign responsibility for wrongdoing and assess clinical symptoms Bridging the gap between philosophy and psychology this interdisciplinary collection showcases how empirical research informs and enriches core questions in the philosophy of action Exploring issues such as truth moral judgement agency consciousness and cognitive control chapters offer an overview of the current state of research present new empirical findings and identify where future experimental work can further advance the frontier between philosophy and psychology This is an essential resource for anyone looking to better understand how science and philosophy can meaningfully inform our knowledge of human agency
