Animal Agriculture Fuller W. Bazer, G. Cliff Lamb, Guoyao Wu, 2019-10-25 Animal Agriculture Sustainability Challenges and Innovations discusses the land based production of high quality protein by livestock and poultry and how it plays an important role in improving human nutrition growth and health With exponential growth of the global population and marked rises in meat consumption per capita demands for animal source protein are expected to increase 72% between 2013 and 2050 This raises concerns about the sustainability and environmental impacts of animal agriculture An attractive solution to meeting increasing needs for animal products and mitigating undesirable effects of agricultural practices is to enhance the efficiency of animal growth reproduction and lactation Currently there is no resource that offers specific knowledge of both animal science and technology including biotechnology for the sustainability of animal agriculture for the expanding global demand of food in the face of diminishing resources This book fills that gap giving readers all the necessary information on important issues facing modern animal agriculture namely its sustainability challenges and innovative solutions Integrates new knowledge in animal breeding biotechnology nutrition reproduction and management Addresses the urgent issue of sustainability in modern animal agriculture Provides practical solutions on how to solve the current and future problems that face animal agriculture worldwide

Some Problems of Livestock Production in China Pei-lieu Cheng, 1945

China, the Livestock Sector, 1987 The study considers the most efficient means of satisfying the growing demand for pork poultry and dairy products in China's large municipalities and discusses the major issues hampering the development of the sector. These constraints include difficulties in making the transition from an administered to a market system, price distortions due largely to the scope of consumer and producer subsidies, insufficient reliance on interregional and international trade to solve problems of feed and livestock product supply, lack of functional specialization within the industry and various weaknesses of support services and the sectoral management structure. The report reviews the recent developments in China's livestock production, the organization of the sector, the emergence of Agricultural Trade Markets (ATMs) in large cities as a result of 1985 policy reforms and influences determining future growth of urban demand for livestock products. Each component of the industry is examined in detail, including feed supply and processing, livestock and poultry breeding, animal health and veterinary services, alternative production systems and product processing.
