Arms And Industry:

Arms, Industry, and America Kenneth Sydney Davis, 1971 Arms and Innovation James Hasik, 2008-09-15 With many of the most important new military systems of the past decade produced by small firms that won competitive government contracts defense industry consultant James Hasik argues in Arms and Innovation that small firms have a number of advantages relative to their bigger competitors Such firms are marked by an entrepreneurial spirit and fewer bureaucratic obstacles and thus can both be more responsive to changes in the environment and more strategic in their planning This is demonstrated Hasik shows by such innovation in military technologies as those that protect troops from roadside bombs in Iraq and the Predator drones that fly over active war zones and that are crucial to our new war on terror For all their advantages small firms also face significant challenges in access to capital and customers To overcome such problems they can form alliances either with each other or with larger companies Hasik traces the trade offs of such alliances and provides crucial insight into their promises and pitfalls This ground breaking study is a significant contribution to understanding both entrepreneurship and alliances two crucial factors in business generally It will be of interest to readers in the defense sector as well as the wider business community

The Modern Defense Industry Richard A. Bitzinger, 2009-10-15 Whether it's guns and ammunition or multidimensional anti terrorism systems the defense industry is dynamic complex and ubiquitous It is also mysterious powerful and controversial involving thousands of players worldwide from suppliers and producers to government and military procurers to shadowy figures that trade in the black market This comprehensive two volume reference will explore on a global scale the various issues concepts problems and controversies surrounding the rise of the modern defense industry Unparalleled in its scope and insight The Modern Defense Industry will prove invaluable to the industry's critics and champions alike The phenomenon of a more or less permanent defense industry especially one so wide in scale breadth air sea land and space technology and geography is still relatively new Until now its implications for politics economics and technology have not been adequately discussed in an authoritative accessible format for scholars and researchers business people journalists policymakers and interested laymen The Modern Defense Industry addresses the period from 1945 to the present covering the United States Europe Russia China Israel and other important arms producing and arms procuring countries Including essays by experts from around the world a glossary data on firms and governments laws and policies primary documents case studies and a host of other elements this set will be a unique resource for anyone interested in the arms industry It will also offer penetrating insights into topics like international relations and diplomacy arms proliferation and contemporary politics Volume I comprises chapters by experts in the field on topics like the relationship between the industry military and government how new modes of warfare are changing the industry the implications of globalization on the industry the black and gray areas of the arms trade and much more Volume II features an extensive A Z glossary of terms lists of defense firms and government agencies annotated primary documents lists of leading defense contractors and key weapons systems an analysis of key legislation and professional organizations The Modern Defense Industry sets the standard for state of the art overviews of an industry that has for better or worse come to infuse nearly every aspect of world affairs in the early twenty first century Towards a Brave New Arms Industry? Richard Bitzinger,2014-08-27 In the post Cold War era most countries have been forced to radically reduce their arms industries and abandoned self sufficiency in favour of a subordinate role in an increasingly globalized worldwide defence industry This has significant implications for the future of armaments production for proliferation and for arms control The Global Arms Trade Andrew T. H. Tan,2014-05-22 The Global Arms Trade is a timely comprehensive and in depth study of this topic a phenomenon which has continued to flourish despite the end of the Cold War and the preoccupation with global terrorism after 11 September 2001 It provides a clear description and analysis of the demand for and supply of modern weapons systems and assess key issues of concern This book will be especially useful to scholars policy analysts those in the arms industry defence professionals students of international relations and security studies media professionals government officials and those generally interested in the arms trade Air University Library Index to Military Periodicals , Arms Industry at the Crossroads Hendrik Bullens,1997-01-01 Engineering as a Global Profession Michael Davis,2021-09-21 While this book begins with the analysis of engineering as a profession it concentrates on a question that the last two decades seem to have made critical Is engineering one global profession like medicine or many national or regional professions like law While science and technology studies STS have increasingly taken an empirical turn much of STS research is unclear enough about the professional responsibility of engineers that STS still tends to avoid the subject leaving engineering ethics without the empirical research needed to teach it as a global profession The philosophy of technology has tended to do the same This book s intervention is to improve the way STS as well as the philosophy of technology approaches the study of engineering This is work in the philosophy of engineering and the attempt to understand engineering as a reasonable undertaking The Bellman ,1914 The Industries of Russia ... Russia. Ministerstvo finansov,1893 The Structure of the Defense Industry Nicole Ball,Milton Leitenberg,2021-05-30 Proponents of arms control and disarmament are often confronted with the argument that reductions in defense expenditure lead to cutbacks in military industries and thus to economic hardship While a reduction in defense production would cause some economic dislocation this would be mitigated by the ability of the economy to adapt to changing patterns of production This book first published in 1983 assesses the likely effects of reductions in defense industries by an examination of the roles these industries play in national economies Each chapter discusses industry employment output research and development capital value profitability concentration and competition internal organization and regional employment concentration Other questions considered include the economic importance of weapons exports the defense industry as a leading edge in maintaining national technological capabilities and the reliance of individual firms on defense contracting Parliamentary Papers Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons,1914 Army Ordnance ,1930 Arms & Explosives ,1901 Journal of the Society of Arts Royal Society of Arts (Great Britain),1905 Restructuring of Arms Production in Western Europe

Stockholm International Peace Research Institute,1992 Profound changes are occurring in the structure of arms production in Western Europe Concentration is increasing at a fast pace Small producers are disappearing and even large ones are opting out of the market The various national arms industries long operating in protective environments are rapidly internationalizing Three factors combine to bring about this change East West detente the creation of the Single European Market and the constant pressure of increasingly complex technology In this book experts describe how the framework for producing arms in Western Europe is altered and how various actors firms governments and trade unions are adapting to the new situation The book presents detailed analyses of all the arms producing countries in Western Europe In addition to describing recent changes the authors speculate on the implications of these for the balance of power in Western Europe the relations between Western Europe and the United States arms exports to the Third World and problems of converting from military to civilian production The appendices include the SIPRI list of the 50 largest arms producing companies in Western Europe data on mergers and acquisitions procurement expenditure and exports of major weapons selections from treaties and other official documents relevant to current and future regulation of West European arms production and a select bibliography Automotive Industries, the Automobile ,1930 Industry Week ,1918 Pocket Bulletin for American Industries ,1926 United States Investor ,1922
