Arnold Böcklin und seine Kunst Gustav Floerke, 1921 Germany at the Fin de Siècle Suzanne Marchand, David Lindenfeld, 2004-10-01 The phrase fin de siècle conjures up images of artistic experimentation and political decadence The contributors to this volume argue that Wilhelmine Germany best known for its industrial and military muscle also shared these traits Their essays look back to the years between 1885 and 1914 to find in Germany a mixture of sociopolitical malaise and experimental exhilaration that was similar in many ways to the better known cases of France and Austria Revising the view that the German Second Reich was merely a precursor to the Third this broad scoped study presents pre World War I Germany in its own fascinating and often contradictory terms The foundations of the antiliberal passions that would plague the Weimar Republic are evident but Wilhelmine society also had a lighter more playful and moderate spirit one that was largely extinguished by the Great War Blending social cultural and intellectual history the contributors a distinguished cross section of older and younger scholars trace changing German views on liberalism penal reform race women art popular culture and technology They juxtapose better known figures such as Max Weber Thomas Mann and Martin Heidegger with

now forgotten individuals like the Jewish feminist novelist Grete Meisel Hess and the iconoclastic Swiss painter Arnold Böcklin Their essay topics range from the esoteric and erotic poetry of Stefan George to the Jewish comedy of the Herrnfeld Theater Modernity is examined from the perspectives of bourgeois cinema goers and judicial reformers as well as from the viewpoint of Carl Jung The result is a variegated picture of an unsettled world rich in its innovations ambitious in its undertakings and often apocalyptic in its dreams Arnold Böcklin Franz Hermann Meissner,1898 Arnold Böcklin Arnold Böcklin,Heinrich Alfred Schmid,1922 De Chirico and the Mediterranean Giorgio De Chirico,1998 The Greek born Italian painter Giorgio de Chirico is a master of metaphysical painting This fully illustrated catalogue presents de Chirico s work in relation to the world and myths of classical antiquity Visualising the Unseen, Imagining the Unknown, Perfecting the Natural Andrew Graciano,2008 Throughout history both art and science have been employed to visualise things unseen and to image imagine things unknown as part of the quest to understand nature In light of this perhaps our contemporary tendency to see art and science as completely divergent mutually exclusive fields of study with similarly distinct methodologies may be profitably re examined This volume brings together recent work by both junior and senior scholars treating the art science connection in eighteenth and nineteenth century art The essays are individual case studies dealing with historical interconnections between drawing painting sculpture and book illustration and such diverse fields of science as botany physics geology and evolutionary biology As a whole the book invites readers to question more generally What is art s relationship to science and vice versa At what points do the two disciplines intersect and or complement one another Can science directly inform artistic subjects Is art a useful tool to focus a scientific lens on the past to validate or challenge scientific theory to inspire and encourage scientific inquiry Can it be employed successfully as a means to visualise scientific ends Do artists have the potential to create images and objects whose meanings surpass the laws of science and outlast its theories whose functions are similarly universal and arguably more immediately accessible legible to the public If art like text and data charts has the power to create organise and disseminate information knowledge then why do we continue to privilege scientific research over artistic investigation Would it not be more fruitful and humane to see them as more equitable modes of inquiry Darwin Pamela Kort,Max Hollein,2009 The exhibition is the first to focus on the implications of Darwinism for the fine arts All of the artists featured in the exhibition shared an interest in the natural sciences and either read texts by Darwin or by those who reacted to him With approximately 150 paintings drawings and lithographs as well as rare documentary material the exhibition showcases artists such as Martin Johnson Heade Franti ek Kupka Odilon Redon George Frederic Watts Arnold Böcklin Gabriel von Max Alfred Kubin and Max Ernst and thus spans the period from 1859 to the mid twentieth century Schirn Kunsthalle website viewed July 26 2009
