Reconstructing the Balkans Derek R. Hall, Darrick Danta, 1996-10-21 The past few years have seen the re emergence of the Balkans as the cockpit of Europe The break up of Yugoslavia the regional conflict between ethnic groups the creation of new states like Slovenia and the transformation of existing ones like Albania have made the area of prime importance in geopolitical terms once again Reconstructing the Balkans looks at the complex and rapidly changing human geography of the Balkans and considers the cultural social and political geographies of the region and its neighbours It provides both an examination of the history of the Balkans emphasising ethnicity and nationality issues and an evaluation of the historical and geographical roots of contemporary Balkan disputes from a range of national viewpoints Written by acknowledged experts in the field the book assesses some of the geographical consequences of the region s conflicts and analyses the post socialist restructuring reconstruction and reconfiguration regionwide and country by country It also gives projections of likely regional development trends This is a unique book as it represents diverse viewpoints from a wide range of ethnic national and disciplinary approaches It draws upon expertise from the USA the UK and everyone concerned with the Balkan regions making it essential reading for analysts and consultants in banks funding agencies and government departments It will also be of interest to advanced students of European Studies Geography International Relations Politics Development and History
