Avery, Gottlieb & Rothko Eliza Rathbone,2026-03-24 A stunning volume illuminating the artistic exchange between three seminal American artists Milton Avery Adolph Gottlieb and Mark Rothko This groundbreaking book underscores the lasting significance of the summers they spent together by the sea in Gloucester Massachusetts in the 1930s and 1940s Milton Avery a modernist painter at work in the first half of the twentieth century is rarely linked to Adolph Gottlieb or Mark Rothko who were twenty years younger and would become associated with the New York School in the 1950s While Avery consistently drew inspiration from the visible world Gottlieb and Rothko invented abstract pictorial languages all their own Despite these differences they were a tight knit trio whose camaraderie and mutual love of the ocean had lasting impact on their work This pioneering volume traces their friendship from 1932 when they first summered together on Cape Ann through the crystallization of their ideas in the 1940s to the deeply centering decades that followed when all three created the mature independent painting styles for which they are best known This late work each in its own way is indebted to the time the artists spent together on the rocky coast and sandy beaches of Cape Ann Contributions by leading scholars and family members enrich this unique exploration of artistic friendship and its bearing on the work of three of the twentieth century s most celebrated artists

Porter Aichele,2016-05-19 Modern Art on Display The Legacies of Six Collectors is structured as a sequence of case studies that pair collectors of modern art with artists they particularly favored Duncan Phillips and Augustus Vincent Tack Albert Barnes and Chaim Soutine Albert Eugene Gallatin and Juan Gris Lillie Bliss and Paul C zanne Etta Cone and Henri Matisse G David Thompson and Paul Klee The case studies are linked by a thematic focus on the integral relationship between the collectors acquired knowledge about the work they amassed and their innovative display models This focus brings a new perspective to the history of collecting and interpreting modern art in America for nearly half a century 1915 1960 By examining the books the collectors themselves read and analyzing archival photographs of their displays the author makes a case for the historical significance of how the collectors presented the art they acquired before their collections were institutionalized

Writings on Art Duncan Phillips,2023-04-28 This selection of the art writings of Duncan Phillips 1886 1966 the early twentieth century art critic collector and patron is the first gathering of these texts into a publication devoted exclusively to this essential side of the man who founded The Phillips Collection in Washington D C In late 1918 Phillips took a leap of faith when he conceived a unique private art museum in the nation's capital at the end of World War I as a setting for a dialogue between the art of the past and the present with an emphasis on defining what is modern from a distinctively personal perspective Phillips's extensive writings were the primary instruments through which he expressed and shared his views alongside the artworks he regularly acquired and exhibited in curated installations that were regularly renewed in fresh rearrangements This book is not a comprehensive assembly of Phillips's art writings but a representative compendium of his views over the course of his lifetime The selection includes examples from his early efforts while a student at Yale University class of 1908 to his thoughts in 1964 two years before his death on the artist Mark Rothko 1903-70 whose work is inextricably linked to the Phillips Collection through the Rothko Room the first such dedicated space est 1960 for the artist's work in a museum
