the individual and coping with death and dying These two well known authors and researchers integrate stimulating personal accounts throughout the text and apply concepts to specific examples that deal with cross cultural perspectives and the practical matters of death and dying Dying, Grieving, Faith, and Family Harold G Koenig, George W Bowman, 2013-04-15 Dying Grieving Faith and Family A Pastoral Care Approach enables grief counselors pastors hospice specialists hospital chaplains mental health practitioners educators and seminary students to bring an understanding of faith development family systems and gender and ethnic differences into their professional practice as they work with dying and grieving persons No other book covers all these themes Not only a great resource for practical guidance this book is also meant to be provocative suggestive and stimulating to professionals and educators charged with working with and teaching about dying and grieving persons With 50 years of providing pastoral care to dying and grieving persons and 30 years as a pastoral educator George Bowman understands the nature and concerns of dying and grieving persons In Dying Grieving Faith and Family he answers the questions you should be asking yourself including How does faith development affect relationships of the dying person and family and friends How does faith development affect grief management by the survivors How does the family systems approach help the pastor or counselor work with dying persons and their survivors What gender and ethnic issues are important to remember in helping to minister and serve persons in crises of dying and grieving The value of Dying Grieving Faith and Family lies in its approach to dying and grieving from the perspectives of faith development family systems theory gender and ethnicity Bowman s unique work proposes that personal development and faith development influence the way one deals with the crises of dying and grief work Companioning You! Alan Wolfelt, 2012-11-01 Based on Dr Wolfelt s unique and highly regarded philosophy of companioning versus treating mourners this self care guide for professional and lay grief caregivers emphasizes the importance of taking good care of oneself as a precursor to taking good care of others Bereavement care is draining work and remaining empathetic to the painful struggles of mourners death and dying day in and day out makes caregivers highly susceptible to burnout This book demonstrates how caring for oneself first allows one to be a more effective caregiver to others Through the advice suggestions and practices directed specifically to caregiving situations and needs caregivers will learn not to lose sight of caring for themselves as they care for others End of Life Issues Brian De Vries, 1999 The complexity of life is mirrored in and elaborated by the complexity of dying death and bereavement perhaps not surprising if one views life and death as complementary processes omnipresent and opposing sides of the same construct Evidence of this complexity is readily apparent in the burgeoning discourse surrounding end of life issues Understanding Dying, Death, and Bereavement Michael R. Leming, George E. Dickinson, 1985 Using a social psychological approach the new edition of this book remains solidly grounded in theory and research while also providing useful information to help individuals examine their own feelings about and cope with death and grieving The well known authors and researchers integrate stimulating personal accounts throughout the text and apply concepts to specific examples
