Dynamic Hong Kong Business Culture:

Wang Gungwu, Educator & Scholar Gungwu Wang, 2013 This book focuses on Wang Gungwu as an educator and scholar through the use of essays written about Wang a biographical sketch of his public and private life and a list of over 50 books written by Wang as well as those written in honor of him Globalizing South China Carolyn Cartier, 2011-07-26 This insightful account demonstrates that capitalism in China has a history and a geography and combines perspectives from both to demonstrate that regional economic restructuring in South China is far from an economic miracle s Find out more information about the RGS IBG journals by following the links below AREA <http://www.blackwellpublishing.com/journal.asp?ref=0004-0894> The Geographical Journal <http://www.blackwellpublishing.com/journal.asp?ref=0016-7398> Transactions of the Institute of British Geographers <http://www.blackwellpublishing.com/journal.asp?ref=0020-2754> The Politics of Affective Relations Daniel A. Bell, Hahm Chiahark, 2004-08-24 In The Politics of Affective Relations editors Daniel Bell and Hahm Chiahark refine our understanding of the East Asian conception of the self by examining how that conception was formulated reproduced and utilized throughout history Sparked by a strong dissatisfaction with the state over many discourses regarding East Asian politics this volume moves beyond the simplistic exchange of polemics regarding Asian Values and reaches a more nuanced understanding of relationality By bringing together a collection of articles authored by experts in a variety of academic disciplines Bell and Hahm scrutinize how the East Asian emphasis on relationality manifests itself in various real life settings such as the family the economy politics and the legal system This volume will provide readers with a broader perspective on and a deeper appreciation for the pervasive nature of relationality in East Asia Commerce in Culture Cynthia Joanne Brokaw, 2007 Sibao today is a cluster of impoverished villages in the mountains of western Fujian Yet from the late seventeenth through the early twentieth century it was home to a flourishing publishing industry Through itinerant booksellers and branch bookshops managed by Sibao natives this industry supplied much of south China with cheap educational texts household guides medical handbooks and fortune telling manuals It is precisely the ordinariness of Sibao imprints that make them valuable for the study of commercial publishing the text production process and the geographical and social expansion of book culture in Chinese society In a study with important implications for cultural and economic history Cynthia Brokaw describes rural lower level publishing and bookselling operations at the end of the imperial period Commerce in Culture traces how the poverty and isolation of Sibao necessitated a bare bones approach to publishing and bookselling and how the Hakka identity of the Sibao publishers shaped the configuration of their distribution networks and even the nature of their publications Sibao s industry reveals two major trends in print culture the geographical extension of commercial woodblock publishing to hinterlands previously untouched by commercial book culture and the related social penetration of texts to lower status levels of the population Modernization and Chinese Entrepreneurship Siu-lun Wong, 1998 Prepared by the East Asian Institute NUS which promotes research on East Asian developments particularly the political economic and social development of contemporary China including Hong Kong and Taiwan this series of research reports is intended for policy makers and readers who want to keep abreast of the latest developments in China Contains two articles In Search of Asia s Modernity and Chinese Entrepreneurs as Cultural Heroes Dynamic Hong Kong Gungwu Wang,Siu-lun Wong,1997 Business and Technological Dynamics in Newly Industrializing Asia Wenlee Ting,1985-03-20 Comparison industrial development trends 1960 1981 technological change market planning Hong Kong Korea R Singapore Taiwan China industrialization policy choice of product technology transfer Innovation business organization multinational enterprise from newly industrializing countries foreign investment Bibliography diagrams statistical tables Becoming Chinese Wen-hsin Yeh,2023-11-15 This volume evaluates the dual roles of war and modernity in the transformation of twentieth century Chinese identity The contributors all leading researchers argue that war no less than revolution deserves attention as a major force in the making of twentieth century Chinese history Further they show that modernity in material culture and changes in intellectual consciousness should serve as twin foci of a new wave of scholarly analysis Examining in particular the rise of modern Chinese cities and the making of the Chinese nation state the contributors to this interdisciplinary volume of cultural history provide new ways of thinking about China s modern transformation up to the 1950s Taken together the essays demonstrate that the combined effect of a modernizing state and an industrializing economy weakened the Chinese bourgeoisie and undercut the individual s quest for autonomy Drawing upon new archival sources these theoretically informed thoroughly revisionist essays focus on topics such as Western inspired modernity urban cosmopolitanism consumer culture gender relationships interchanges between city and countryside and the growing impact of the state on the lives of individuals The volume makes an important contribution toward a postsocialist understanding of twentieth century China This volume evaluates the dual roles of war and modernity in the transformation of twentieth century Chinese identity The contributors all leading researchers argue that war no less than revolution deserves attention as a major force in the making of Firm Development in Hong Kong Zhihao Wu,2002 This study focuses on how Chinese business firms in Hong Kong adjust their strategies in facing intensified competition from foreign firms and how the contextual factors affected the outcomes of the competition By examining this adjustment process we can gain a better understanding of the impact of multinational corporations on host country business systems I have selected the department store sector of Hong Kong retail industry as a case study to achieve the research agenda proposed above The Hong Kong retail industry changed from a traditional localized sector into a highly internationalized sector in the period from the 1970s to the 1990s The continuously changing Hong Kong retail industry provides an appropriate site for examining the adjustments in the business practices of Chinese firms in the increasing internationalization of the market environment A multi level analysis is adopted to analyze the relationships between different variables The basic unit of analysis is the firm and its business practices the second level of analysis is the business system and the third is the institutional context in which the firm has developed A multiple case approach is adopted in this projection which eleven cases are selected from five different groups of retailers These cases are compared according to their mode of control strategies for business development supplier relations collaboration with other retailers and work systems The analysis is based on the reconstruction of company and industry histories sources include company histories and reports reports from industry and government newspapers direct observational evidence focused interviews with company management This study has examined the interplay between local firms and the multinationals and the effects of the host institutional contexts and the home institutional contexts on the development of these firms These interactions are treated as the primary explanatory factor for the differences in firm development The study has affirmed that the institutional contexts play a key role in shaping the development of firms in this increasingly globalized market economy

Business as a Vocation Jinxing Huang, 2002 Wu Ho Su 1919 1986 pioneered business ventures ranging from cloth and synthetic fiber industries to department stores and life insurance This son of a crippled former coolie began as a laborer for a Japanese cloth importing company in the 1930s but eventually became a manager and then an independent entrepreneur Overcoming business obstacles in Chiang Kai shek s Nationalist ruled Taiwan after 1945 Mr Wu painstakingly built Shinkong into Taiwan s sixth largest business enterprise by the 1980s This account of Wu Ho Su s life developed by Mr Wu working directly with Dr Huang Chin shingm of the Academia Sinica one of Taiwan s most distinguished historians is instructive for the lessons it offers about both business practices in East Asia and their interplay with Confucian values The book recounts with graphic examples the changing role of family and other networks in Taiwan s economic miracle and in the region more generally The blend that Mr Wu evidenced of business acumen and concern for Confucianism in turn raises broader questions of the type that scholars and businesspeople have strenuously debated since the time of Max Weber about the compatibility of Confucian norms and modern business practices

Confucian Studies Xinzhong Yao, Weiming Tu, 2011 While having substantially declined in political and social influence Confucianism was revived by leading intellectuals so called Modern New Confucians in the twentieth century to deal with perennial problems facing modern people and society It is against this background that Confucian Studies has become an increasingly important subject taught in universities and colleges in North America Europe East Asia and Australia With more and more universities and colleges offering courses on or relating to Confucian philosophy ethics religion and politics this new collection from Routledge answers the urgent need for a source book in contemporary Confucian Studies

Dynamics of Family Business Siew Tong Fock, 2009 Much of the prevailing literature today and even the learned perception of many academic researchers claim that Chinese family businesses face growth restrictions that stem from cultural characteristics preventing them from developing into full fledged multinational enterprises If this view is correct it is particularly disturbing for Singapore where public policy is directed at developing local enterprises which are dominated by Chinese family businesses into large and successful international corporations in Asia and the rest of the world

This book presents an in depth study of five Chinese family businesses in Singapore that have overcome supposedly culturally inherent restrictions to growth and have successfully made the intergenerational transitions They have also grown in size across family generations to become business empires in the Asia Pacific and the West The analysis of the success factors of these five successful Chinese family businesses includes an examination of cultural and institutional factors and importantly the entrepreneurial role of the family business leaders The success of these five outstanding entrepreneurially oriented Chinese family businesses and the profile of their family business leaders are templates for other Chinese family business leaders and potentially future large and successful Chinese family businesses to follow Also available in the Gale Virtual Reference Library eBook eBook pricing varies according to the size of your institution Please contact us for details eBook ISBN 13 9789814253680 Available Now Rethinking Confucianism Benjamin A. Centre of Asian Studies, 1996 Entrepreneurship and the Internationalisation of Asian Firms Henry Wai-Chung Yeung, 2002 Yeung economic geography National U of Singapore looks at the particular risks and calculations of the transnational entrepreneur with a focus on the globalization of Asian firms He argues that transnational entrepreneurs are not driven merely by the historical mechanisms of change but instead work proactively to overcome problems associated with international business both facilitated and constrained by ongoing processes of institutional relations in the home and host countries He illustrates with empirical data from two in depth studies of about 300 firms based in Hong Kong and Singapore Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR The Chinese Triangle of Mainland China, Taiwan, and Hong Kong Alvin Y. So, Nan Lin, Dudley L. Poston, 2001-07-30 The Chinese triangle of mainland China Hong Kong and Taiwan constitutes one of the most dynamic regions in the world economy Since the late 1970s these three societies have experienced increasing economic integration however studies aimed at analyzing and explaining this integration have often overlooked the very important role social institutions have played in the shaping of this process To fill this gap this book adopts a systematic institutional approach designed to examine the different patterns of institutions in the three countries and to discuss how such social institutions as the economy gender social networks and the Chinese diaspora have exerted a profound impact on all three societies The chapters taken together argue that different patterns of institutional configuration have led to divergent paths of development and that this divergence will have significant implications on the prospects for Chinese national reunification in the twenty first century The Introductory chapter provides a historical discussion on the origins and the transformation of the Chinese triangle during the second half of the twentieth century The remainder of the volume is broken into four topics considered crucial for understanding the transformation of the Chinese triangle economic transformation gender social networks and the Chinese diaspora As globalization impacts the Chinese triangle studies that consider the issues from the perspective of social institutions will be increasingly important to understanding the area as it develops in the world economy

The Top Books of the Year Dynamic Hong Kong Business Culture The year 2023 has witnessed a noteworthy surge in literary brilliance, with numerous captivating novels enthraling the hearts of readers worldwide. Let's delve into the realm of top-selling books, exploring the fascinating narratives that have enthralled audiences this year.

The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This touching tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover skillfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can succeed.

Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reid's "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This captivating historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reid's absorbing storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery.

Discover the Magic : Delia Owens' "Where the Crawdads Sing" This mesmerizing coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens crafts a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting.

These bestselling novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of engaging stories waiting to be discovered.

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts.

The Secret History is an exceptional and gripping novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
