

Angel Poems for

Her

By Maya Anthony

Angelic Gaze

In her eyes, a world unfolds,
Stories of grace, tales untold.
Softly glowing, a radiant sheen,
In her gaze, the heavens are seen.

Her steps light, her touch so kind,
Echoes of angels in her mind.
With every smile, every gentle stare,
She spreads love, beyond compare.

A beacon in the night, a star so clear,
Her angelic essence draws us near.
In her presence, worries fade,
In her embrace, heaven is made.

Angel Riding A Beast Poems:

Angel Riding a Beast, 1998 The poems in Angel Riding a Beast are the stunning expression of the Romanian poet Liliana Ursu's years in America. The sadness and paradoxes of exile and the clarity of a cross-cultural awareness become for Ursu the psychological and descriptive framework for poems infused with the emotion and images of erotic longing and spiritual loneliness. The combination of elegy and wit in the poems of Ovid, the poet of exile with whom Ursu claims kinship is evident in her poetry as well. Always conscious of both her new American freedom and the remorselessness of time and death, Ursu explores the American landscape through the sad aura of those coming from Eastern Europe as if from some kind of inferno. She displays remarkable insight into America's often formless and shallow society of consumers and yet her newly Americanized vision also allows her to reimagine and reevaluate her life and her country. The alienating repression of recent Romanian history has led Romanian poets with Ursu as a source of inspiration for their almost violent intensity of language to resist and penetrate all boundaries and limits, whether political, ideological, or aesthetic. The sympathy of her cultural observations and the physicality of her poetic images and the desires that inform them give Ursu's poems an affecting and universal perspective in which desperate experience and places coalesce in a singular human landscape. The Circle of

Hanh Bruce Weigl, 2001-05-22 A tender and courageous and truly haunting memoir, one of the very best to emerge from the American war in Vietnam. I loved this book. Tim O'Brien, author of The Things They Carried. In this piercingly honest memoir, renowned poet Bruce Weigl explores the central experience of his life as a writer and a man: the Vietnam War, which tore his life apart and inspired his poetic voice. Weigl knew nothing about Vietnam before enlisting in 1967, but he saw a free ride out of a difficult childhood among volatile people. The war completely changed his life: there was a before and then an irrevocable after. In the before, Weigl pretended to be dead in mock battles with his friends; in the after, he watched as a boy from his unit whispered to Vietnamese corpses while caring for their inert bodies as if they were dolls. Weigl returned from Vietnam unprepared to cope with civilian life. He turned to alcohol, drugs, and women in an attempt to escape his confused purgatory, but only found himself alone, watching other people's lives from the shadows. Eventually finding his way back into the world, Weigl drew solace from poetry and later from a family. Yet it is not until his harrowing journey back to Hanoi to adopt a Vietnamese daughter that Weigl finds redemption. This act of personal humanity and recompense to a nation he helped to destroy lies at the heart of his memoir. The Circle of Hanh is a moving, singular, and highly readable chronicle of a haunted life and ultimately a stunning work of healing. Kirkus Reviews starred review. Women and Gender in Central and Eastern
