Angels Singing:

Play with the Moon Lance Lamons, 2022-07-21 I love clouds that I can almost touch This sums up something so grand something so above us and yet so near we can have the experience now if somehow we can awaken to it Weaved in and out of these lines there is a view from up there an attitude from up there that conveys the aliveness of all things in nature Nature and truly all things are waiting to be companions and friends Smiles are the most magical of all things There is wisdom carried with them when they are sincere But how do you really convey some idea like that It is a mystery My greatest hope is that this book leaves you with a smile that knows God's blessings in all things I never wrote these poems of myself but rather they are expressions I received during long periods of quiet Then I wrote down what I could convey to share with you There is much hidden awaiting your surprise It certainly was a gift given to which I abound with abundant gratitude Hark! the Singing with Angels Judith H. Oliver, Gisela (von Kerksenbrock.), 2007 A prized possession of the Cistercian convent of Marienbrunn in Rulle near Osnabruck in northern Germany was its richly illuminated gradual dating to c 1300 which is of great significance in the history of medieval art for several reasons With 52 historiated initials iconographically complex in their literary quotations from the liturgy the manuscript ranks as one of the most lavishly decorated books of its type to survive Painted in an elegant courtly Gothic style it is ascribed in a prefatory inscription to the nun Gisela von Kerksenbrock who wrote notated and decorated the manuscript with golden letters and beautiful images Such an encyclopedic listing of a scribe artist's labors is unparalleled in medieval scribal colophons The high quality of the miniatures ranks her among the most gifted women artists of the Middle Ages Gisela is depicted in two self portraits within the manuscript in one of which she is leading the nuns of Rulle in singing the Christmas hymn visual evidence that she was the choirmistress at this convent The manuscript's images reflect the intellectual ambience of encloistered nuns who were steeped in the annual liturgical cycle of feasts with its associated bible readings theological commentary sermons music dramatic ritual and artistic decoration As it was used in the nuns daily celebration of the mass the book is an eloquent witness of the communal religious life of medieval women rather than their private meditations or mystical experiences This study explores the imagery and texts associated with major feasts of the liturgical year and the novel ways in which music and text are woven into the artistic program of Gisela s manuscript In particular her book shows the seminal importance of the Easter celebration for convent life as well over half of its illustrations are clustered in the Easter season and the manuscript repeatedly gives artistic expression to the nuns hopes of heaven
