Arms Trade And Europe:

Arms Trade and Europe Paul Cornish,1995-03-12 Focusing on conventional weapons rather than nuclear biological and chemical ones this book draws attention to important differences within the EU between the trade in finished weapons and the technology used to make them It examines West European efforts since 1945 to manage both sides of conventional defence related trade and the political industrial technological and conceptual obstacles to effective multilateral coordination and regulation The book argues that in current European and international circumstances recent EU initiatives have limited prospects and may prove to be counterproductive

The European Arms Trade Martin S. Navias,Susan Willett,1996 European Arms Trade

Arms Industry at the Crossroads Hendrik Bullens,1997-01-01

Undermining Global Security Amnesty International,2004 Contains disturbing examples of exports from existing or new EU Member States of military security and police MSP equipment technology and expertise used for grave human rights violations or breaches of international humanitarian law Reveals the arms production and exporting activities of the ten new countries joining the EU on 1st May 2004 Explores how the enlarged EU will have over 400 companies in 23 countries producing small arms and light weapons Demonstrates how this dramatic enlargement of the EU presents both potential opportunities and dangers for European arms control Analyses the current policies and practices of 15 EU Member States and the 10 new Member States with regard to their control of the transfer of military security and police MSP technology weaponry personnel and training It demonstrates why Amnesty is convinced that more effective EU mechanisms to control MSP exports are urgently required to help protect human rights and ensure respect for international humanitarian law

The European Union's Arms Trade Policy ,2015

French Arms Exports Lucie Béraud-Sudreau,2020-03-25 From De Gaulle onwards France s strategic independence has been predicated on self sufficiency in modern weapons To achieve and maintain the requisite defence industrial base in the context of limited domestic orders Paris sought to promote the export of its arms During the Cold War this underpinned but was also an expression of France s determination to resist bipolar domination France offered customers around the world an alternative to reliance on one superpower or the other and in doing so it generated the revenue to support an extensive domestic arms industry The end of the Cold War ushered in fundamental changes however Western defence spending shrank and the global market was turned upside down While France s arms export policy was less affected by human rights concerns than other democracies it was not immune to pressures stemming from the consolidation of Europe s defence industrial base and the increased interest of the EU in regulating the arms trade This Adelphi book considers how France has responded to changing political and market circumstances in the way that it promotes and controls the export of weapons It examines the rationale for considering a liberal arms export policy as essential to French independence and the institutional arrangements that underpinned this It tracks the dramatic changes in the global arms market since 1990 in terms of demand and market competition and charts the response of the French government to these changes The book underlines how the French machinery of government as a directing force behind the defence industry has been resistant to the notion of export restraint even in the case of sales to authoritarian regimes However it argues that France now faces a dilemma over whether to continue with a long successful course or to moderate its independence through greater collaboration to bolster European integration and better compete globally The European Union's External Action in Times of Crisis Piet Eeckhout, Manuel Lopez-Escudero, 2016-12-01 The Lisbon Treaty modified the legal framework of EU external action and these innovations must be applied in a period of deep economic and financial crisis interacting with other more specific crises affecting the EU's external activities This volume investigates the recent institutional and substantive developments in EU external relations law and practice in this context of multiple crises for the EU The economic and financial crisis has a major impact on EU external action but other crises too affect this sensitive area of the EU's activity and the book takes them into account For instance there is a crisis in the relationship between EU law and international law after the ECJ judgement in the Kadi case In addition to exploring these questions the volume also examines questions of legitimacy in fields such as foreign investment protection and arbitration Representing the output of a powerful research team composed of leading scholars in the field this comprehensive collection will appeal to both an expert and non expert readership

The Arms Trade Treaty: A Commentary Andrew Clapham, Stuart Casey-Maslen, Gilles Giacca, Sarah Parker, 2016-07-28 The United Nations Arms Trade Treaty became binding international law in late 2014 and although the text of the treaty is a relatively concise framework for assessing whether to authorize or deny proposed conventional weapons transfers by States Parties there exists controversy as to the meaning of certain key provisions Furthermore the treaty requires a national regulatory body to authorize proposed transfers of conventional weapons covered by the treaty but does not detail how such a body should be established and how it should effectively function The Arms Trade Treaty A Commentary explains in detail each of the treaty provisions the parameters for prohibitions or the denial of transfers international cooperation and assistance and implementation obligations and mechanisms As states ratify and implement the Treaty over the next few years the commentary provides invaluable guidance to government officials commentators and scholars on the meaning of its contentious provisions This volume describes in detail which weapons are covered by the treaty and explains the different forms of transfer that the Arms Trade Treaty regulates It covers international human rights trade disarmament humanitarian law criminal law and state to state use of force as well as the application of the treaty to non state actors Global Security Watch—The Maghreb Yahia H. Zoubir, Louisa Dris-Aït-Hamadouche, 2013-04-23 An unprecedented analysis of how the liberation from colonial rule has threatened the Maghreb region of Africa and created political and social challenges that puts global security at risk Northwestern Africa known as the Maghreb consists of Algeria Libya Mauritania Morocco Tunisia and Western Sahara Recent changes in the political climate including the collapse of the Libyan regime in October 2011 and structural factors such as the decolonization of the countries within the Maghreb have escalated violence in the area exposing global powers including the United States to terrorist attacks This is the first book of its kind to focus on the strategic planning of the United States as well as other world powers in the stabilization of the region Global Security Watch The Maghreb Algeria Libya Morocco and Tunisia examines domestic regional and international policies as they relate to the area s culture geography and history Each of the book s seven chapters looks at the political and social stability of the land and features a discussion on such topics as interstate relations regional integration conflict resolution and the legislation governing security

The European Union's Involvement in Negotiating an Arms Trade Treaty Sara Depauw,2012 In July 2012 the United Nations convened a conference to negotiate a legally binding arms trade treaty ATT to regulate trade in conventional arms at the highest possible common international standards Arms export controls can only be effective if implemented at the global level in a coherent and consistent manner The European Union EU strongly supports the development of a global ATT The EU coordinated internally to streamline national positions and converge diverging approaches on the content of the ATT Furthermore it pleaded for an inclusive process and put this into practice by organizing outreach seminars for all UN member states However during the negotiations in July 2012 the EU encountered difficulties in streamlining national policies and fulfilling its ambitious role to act as a global actor Striking the right balance between effective national diplomacy and EU consistency during the negotiations proved to be challenging Although UN member states did not reach an agreement in July the EU has a crucial role to play in future negotiations which will continue in March 2013

Restructuring of Arms Production in Western Europe Stockholm International Peace Research Institute,1992 Profound changes are occurring in the structure of arms production in Western Europe Concentration is increasing at a fast pace Small producers are disappearing and even large ones are opting out of the market The various national arms industries long operating in protective environments are rapidly internationalizing Three factors combine to bring about this change East West detente the creation of the Single European Market and the constant pressure of increasingly complex technology In this book experts describe how the framework for producing arms in Western Europe is altered and how various actors firms governments and trade unions are adapting to the new situation The book presents detailed analyses of all the arms producing countries in Western Europe In addition to describing recent changes the authors speculate on the implications of these for the balance of power in Western Europe the relations between Western Europe and the United States arms exports to the Third World and problems of converting from military to civilian production The appendices include the SIPRI list of the 50 largest arms producing companies in Western Europe data on mergers and acquisitions procurement expenditure and exports of major weapons selections from treaties and other official documents relevant to current and future regulation of West European arms production and a select bibliography

European Action on Small Arms and Light Weapons and Explosive Remnants of War United Nations Institute for Disarmament Research,2006 The illicit trade accumulation and use of small arms and light weapons and the presence of explosive remnants of war exacerbate conflict threaten human life undermine development and hamper the recovery of war torn societies The spread of small arms and their misuse is often related to the vicious circle of poverty insecurity and underdevelopment This report examines the key elements of the recently adopted EU Small Arms Strategy as well as analysing the effectiveness of selected European policy actions including in relation to international negotiations on small arms and light weapons SALW and mine action assistance programmes Official Journal of the European Communities ,1999 Bulletin ,1915 Europe and the Global Arms Agenda Jocelyn Mawdsley,Marta Martinelli,Eric Remacle,2004 The development of the European Security and Defence Policy means that the EU also needs to respond to the global armaments agenda However as this book shows this is a contested and under researched policy space There are conflicting pressures between the claims of trade and security Should the EU armaments policy be aimed at securing defence industry competitiveness or military capabilities Can it be autonomous or must it be transatlantic What are the security priorities of the Union Similar conflicts exist with the EU s commitment to the global disarmament agenda Are its policies weakened by the pursuit of agendas using armaments for security and economic gain Another dilemma of politics in the age of globalisation is the contradiction between system effectiveness and citizen participation This book asks if supporters of Europeanisation of armaments and disarmament policy are really considering the question of continued democratic accountability The contributions to this book map these contradictory pressures by critically analysing the EU as an armaments actor as a disarmament actor and finally as a provider of a democratically accountable armaments policy space Parliamentary Debates (Hansard). Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons,1927 Contains the 4th session of the 28th Parliament through the session of the Parliament America's Interests as Affected by the European War American Academy of Political and Social Science,1915 Documents Regarding the European Economic Situation ,1923 Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature ,1919 About Japan ,1916
