

The book cover features a layered, abstract landscape design in various shades of orange and red. The design consists of several horizontal bands of different colors and textures, creating a sense of depth and movement. The top band is a bright orange, followed by a darker red band, then a lighter orange band, and finally a dark red band at the bottom. The text is printed in a white, serif font, standing out against the darker background.

Subcommittee on Select Education,1978 Studies in Art Education ,2002 Arts Education Research Agenda for the Future ,1994 This document presents the arts education research agenda that emerged from a national conference on arts education The conference was attended by key researchers in each of the arts education disciplines arts educators artists and artist teachers representatives of arts institutions and organizations and persons from groups and organizations that influence the priorities development and conduct of research efforts The goals of the agenda are 1 to focus the attention of arts educators researchers and the broader community on basic issues in arts education that can improve teaching and learning in the arts 2 to identify what arts educators view as priorities given limited resources 3 to provide a conceptual framework and overall philosophy for inquiry in the field of arts education as other disciplines are doing with their respective research agendas and 4 to connect theory and practice and to make research an agent of improvement in teaching and learning The agenda was developed to articulate the many unanswered questions in three main areas of arts education 1 curriculum and instruction 2 assessment and evaluation and 3 teacher education and preparation The document consists of five parts plus notes a bibliography and an appendix of conference participants The first section is an introduction of this field generated document discussing trends in U S education that influence arts education The second chapter on curriculum and instruction discusses what should be taught and how The third chapter is on assessment and the fourth on teacher education and preparation The last chapter is on continued collaboration DK Issues of Contemporary Art and Aesthetics in Chinese Context Eva Kit Wah Man,2015-08-17 This book discusses how China s transformations in the last century have shaped its arts and its philosophical aesthetics For instance how have political economic and cultural changes shaped its aesthetic developments Further how have its long standing beliefs and traditions clashed with modernizing desires and forces and how have these changes materialized in artistic manifestations In addition to answering these questions this book also brings Chinese philosophical concepts on aesthetics into dialogue with those of the West making an important contribution to the fields of art comparative aesthetics and philosophy Journal of Physical Education and Recreation ,1980 The Future of the Arts David B. Pankratz,Valerie B. Morris,1990 This volume presents the work of social scientists public policy analysts policy makers and arts funding decision makers The contributors seek to address serious issues confronting the future of the arts in America by defining the role of social science research in the formulation of public policies The chapters reflect the diverse disciplinary perspectives and methodologies which make up the broad enterprise of arts research and cover a wide array of current issues in arts research and public policy including the current state of arts and arts education research arts participation by ethnic cultures baby boomers and older adults emerging patterns of aesthetic choice public arts policy in the future and conditions for the growth and effective use of arts research Academics and students in political science policy analysis sociology economics arts administration and education policy makers and arts administrators will find The Future of the Arts a valuable resource The contributors conclude that the future of the arts in America will be shaped by a wide array of forces The challenge is in avoiding passive reactivity to these trends assessing their short term and long term influences and strategically developing policy options that are within the decision making control of leadership sectors in the complex arts policy world Until recently the political context of public arts policy has hindered the development and utilization of arts research In many ways this book illustrates the promise of research based policy formulation for the arts in America
