Dutch Jews As Perceived By Themselves And By Others:

Dutch Jews as Perceived by Themselves and by Others Chaya Brasz, Yosef Kaplan, 2021-11-22 How did Jews in the Netherlands view themselves and how were they viewed by others This is the single theme around which the twenty five essays in this volume written by scholars from the Netherlands Israel and other countries revolve The studies encompass a variety of topics and periods from the beginning of the Jewish settlement in the Dutch Republic through the Shoah and its aftermath They include examinations of the Sephardi Jews in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries the Jews in the periods of Emancipation and Enlightenment social and cultural encounters between Jews and non Jews throughout the ages the image of the Jew in Dutch literature in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries and the churches attitudes toward Jews Also highlighted are the second World War and its consequences Dutch Jews in Israel and Israelis in the contemporary Netherlands

Dutch Jews As Perceived by Themselves and by Others Chaya Brasz, Yosef Kaplan, 2001 This study Encompasses a variety of topics relating to Dutch Jewry from the beginning of Jewish settlement through the Holocaust

The History of the Jews in the Netherlands J. C. H. Blom, R. G. Fuks-Mansfeld, Ivo Schöffer, 2002 This work is composed of essays describing Jewish life in Dutch history from the Middle ages to the present

Centres of Medical Excellence? Andrew Cunningham, 2016-12-05 Students notoriously vote with their feet seeking out the best and most innovative teachers of their subject The most ambitious students have been travelling long distances for their education since universities were first founded in the 13th century making their own educational pilgrimage or peregrinatio This volume deals with the peregrinatio medica from the viewpoint of the travelling students who went where how did they travel what did they find when they arrived what did they take back with them from their studies Even a single individual could transform medical studies or practice back home on the periphery by trying to reform teaching and practice the way they had seen it at the best universities Other contributions look at the universities themselves and how they were actively developed to attract students and at some of the most successful teachers such as Boerhaave at Leiden or the Monros at Edinburgh The essays show how increasing levels of wealth allowed more and more students to make their pilgrimages travelling for weeks at a time to sit at the feet of a particular master In medicine this meant that over the period c 1500 to 1789 a succession of universities became the medical school of choice for ambitious students Padua and Bologna in the 1500s Paris Leiden and Montpellier in the 1600s and Leiden G ttingen and Edinburgh in the 1700s The arrival of foreign students brought wealth to the university towns and this significant economic benefit meant that the governors of these universities tried to ensure the defence of freedom of religion and freedom of speech thus providing the best conditions for the promotion of new views and innovation in medicine The collection presents a new take on the history of medical education as well as universities travel and education more widely in ancien r gime Europe

Jews and Europe in the Twenty-first Century Nick J. A. Lambert, 2008 A collection of interviews with more than 90 prominent Jewish intellectuals politicians writers and scientists from across

Western Europe Nick Lambert's penetrating interviews and analyses reveal their thoughts fears and hopes for the future

Borders and Boundaries in and Around Dutch Jewish History David J. Wertheim, Judith Frishman, Ido de Haan, 2011 This study explores the shifting boundaries and identities of historic and contemporary Jewish communities The contributors assert that geographically speaking Jewish people rarely lived in ghettos and have never been confined within the borders of one nation or country Whereas their places of residence may have remained the same for centuries the countries and regimes that ruled over them were rarely as constant and power struggles often led to the creation of new and divisive national borders Taking a postmodern historical approach the contributors seek to reexamine Jewish history and Jewish studies through the lens of borders and boundaries Jewish Culture and History, 2007 The Seventeenth Century

Hebrew Book Marvin J. Heller, 2011 The Seventeenth Century Hebrew Book covers the gamut of Hebrew literature in that century Each entry has a descriptive text page and an accompanying reproduction There is an extensive introduction with an overview of Hebrew printing in the seventeenth century Refugees from Nazi Germany in the Netherlands

1933-1940 R. Moore, 2012-12-06 My interest in the refugee question of the 1930s stemmed initially from time spent as an undergraduate at Manchester University an interest which has been expanded via a doctoral thesis to the writing of this book In writing about the German and Austrian refugees who fled to the Netherlands before the country was occupied in May 1940 the main aim has been to return the refugee question of the 1930s into its pre war context a context from which it has often been dragged to provide an introduction to the events of the war period and the policies carried out by the Germans in occupied Europe A study of the Netherlands provides the opportunity to look at refugees as a whole not just as Jews social democrats or communists and also to examine the reaction and response of an European government to what was essentially a unique problem I take great pleasure in recording my gratitude to the many people who have helped me in the course of my work To the Dutch Ministerie van On derwijs en Wetenschappen and the Twenty Seven Foundation for grants which enabled me to spend time in the Netherlands completing the research for this project and to the British Academy for their financial assistance with publication costs The research for this book took me to many libraries and archives in a number of countries

The Sixteenth Century Hebrew Book Marvin J. Heller, 2004 The Sixteenth Century Hebrew Book covers the gamut of Hebrew literature in that century Each entry has a descriptive text page and an accompanying reproduction There is an extensive introduction with an overview of Hebrew printing in the sixteenth century Jahrbuch des Simon-Dubnow-Instituts, 2007 Religious Identity and the Problem of Historical Foundation Judith Frishman, Willemien Otten, Gerard Rouwhorst, 2004 The book deals with different sorts of authoritative sources predominantly but not exclusively written ones on which Christian communities have based their identity from the period of early Christianity to the twentieth century Issues addressed are the processes leading to the development of authoritative traditions as well as the effects these have had on the identity of Christian churches or confessions Special attention is paid to the crisis which the belief in authoritative sources has experienced since the rise of modernity

Dutch Racism Philomena Essed, Isabel Hoving, 2014-03-01 Dutch Racism is the first comprehensive study of its kind The approach is unique not comparative but relational in unraveling the legacy of racism in the Netherlands and the former colonies Authors contribute to identifying the complex ways in which racism operates in and beyond the national borders shaped by European and global influences and intersecting with other systems of domination Contrary to common sense beliefs it appears that old fashioned biological notions of race never disappeared At the same time the Netherlands echoes if not leads a wider European trend where offensive statements about Muslims are an everyday phenomenon Dutch Racism challenges readers to question what happens when the moral rejection of racism loses ground The volume captures the layered nature of Dutch racism through a plurality of registers methods and disciplinary approaches from sociology and history to literary analysis art history and psychoanalysis all different elements competing for relevance truth value and explanatory power This range of voices and visions offers illuminating insights in the two closely related questions that organize this book what factors contribute to the complexity of Dutch racism And why is the concept of racism so intensely contested The volume will speak to audiences across the humanities and social sciences and can be used as textbook in undergraduate as well as graduate courses Philomena Essed is professor of Critical Race Gender and Leadership studies Antioch University USA PhD in Leadership and Change Program Her books and edited volumes include Everyday Racism Understanding Everyday Racism Race Critical Theories A Companion to Gender Studies outstanding 2005 CHOICE award and Clones Fakes and Posthumans Cultures of Replication Isabel Hoving is diversity officer at the Leiden University and affiliated with the Department of Film and Literary Studies of Leiden University Her books include In Praise of New Travellers Veranderingen van het alledaagse and several other volumes on migration Caribbean literatures African literature and art In addition to her academic work she is an awarded youth writer

The World Reacts to the Holocaust David S. Wyman, Charles H. Rosenzweig, 1996-09-24 Among the issues examined are the extent of the human destruction the degree of collaboration Jewish reactions and efforts to save the Jews

Jewish Workers and the Labour Movement Karin Hofmeester, 2004 Karin Hofmeester traces the history of Jewish workers and their need to integrate with mainstream labour movements as cited in the subtitle

The Jews in the Caribbean Jane S. Gerber, 2014 The Jewish diaspora of the Caribbean constantly redefined itself under changing circumstances This volume looks at many aspects of this complex past and suggests different ways to understand it as a Jewish diaspora dispersed under different European colonial empires as a Jewish body joined together by a set of shared Jewish traditions and historical memories and as one component in a web of relationships that characterized the Atlantic world

Studia Rosenthaliana, 2001 Jewish Studies and the European Academic World European Association for Jewish Studies. Congress, Albert van der Heide, Irene E. Zwiep, 2005 Is there such a thing as a European academic world The European Association for Jewish Studies EAJS operates on the principle that there is and this volume is an attempt to present the facts on which this conviction is based. The eight plenary lectures delivered at the EAJS Congress of 2002 all dealt with the past, present, and in some measure future of Jewish Studies as they developed in Spain, Italy, Germany, the Netherlands, Eastern Europe, and Russia, and the United Kingdom, a pan-European perspective concludes the whole. At the opening ceremony of the congress in the Esnoga Portuguese Synagogue of Amsterdam, two further addresses were held which both illustrate the firm rootedness of European Jewish culture in its European surroundings, as exemplified by the history and culture of the Amsterdam Portuguese Jewish community. Studies in Contemporary Jewry: XIII: The Fate of the European Jews, 1939-1945 Jonathan Frankel, 1997. This volume of the annual Studies in Contemporary Jewry series presents essays on the origins of the Holocaust. With contributions from many of the world's leading Holocaust scholars, The Fate of the European Jews, 1933-1945 provides multiple perspectives on the question of whether the Holocaust can best be explained as an inevitable result of Europe's anti-Semitic history or as a tragic historical mutation.
