Euripides,2015-09-13 The Bacchae is an ancient Greek tragedy written by the Athenian playwright Euripides The Bacchae is concerned with two opposite sides of man s natures There is the rational and civilized side which is represented by the character of Pentheus the king of Thebes and then there is the instinctive side which is represented by Dionysus This side is sensual without analysis it feels a connection between man and beast and it is a potential source of divinity and spiritual power In Euripides plays the gods represent various human qualities allowing the audience to grapple with considerations of the human condition The Bacchae seems to be saying that it is perilous to deny or ignore the human desire for Dionysian experience those who are open to the experience will find spiritual power and those who suppress or repress the desire in themselves or others will transform it into a destructive force
