Chimpanzee Memoirs Stephen Ross,Lydia Hopper,2022-05-10 Chimpanzees fascinate people for many reasons We are struck by the apes resemblance to humanity as seen in their use of tools and their complex social lives and we are moved by the threats that human activity poses to them Our awareness of our closest living relatives testifies to the efforts of the remarkable people who study these creatures and work to protect them What motivates someone to dedicate their lives to chimpanzees How does that reflect on our own species This book brings together a range of chimpanzee experts who tell powerful personal stories about their lives and careers It features some of the world s preeminent primatologists including Jane Goodall and Frans de Waal as well as representatives of a new generation from varied backgrounds In addition to field scientists the book features anthropologists biologists psychologists veterinarians conservationists and the director of a chimpanzee sanctuary Some grew up in the English countryside others in villages in Congo some first encountered chimpanzees in a zoo others in the forests surrounding their homes All are united by a common purpose to study and understand chimpanzees in order to protect them in the wild and care for them in zoos and sanctuaries Contributors share what inspired them what shaped their career choices and what motivates them to strive for solutions to the many challenges that chimpanzees face today

The Chimpanzees of the Budongo Forest Vernon Reynolds,2005-06-30 Unlike humans who came down from the trees and developed bipedal locomotion chimpanzees have remained in the original habitat of our ancestors the tropical rainforests of Africa In this book Vernon Reynolds describes in detail the work of a large number of students and senior researchers on the wild chimpanzees of the Budongo Forest Reserve in Western Uganda He presents a coherent and in depth account of one chimpanzee community of more than 60 individuals living in the Sonso area in the middle of the Budongo Forest which he and his colleagues have studied intensively over the last 15 years The chimpanzees have never been provisioned and live in an entirely natural state Reynolds describes their forest habitat their diet and culture their social organization and behaviour their diseases and the threats to them that derive from the actions of people in the surrounding villages the most serious of these being the presence of snares set by hunters to catch small antelopes and pigs As founder and head of the Budongo Forest Project Professor Reynolds has been responsible for compiling the numerous publications reports and dissertations written about these chimpanzees In this book he combines these new and often unpublished studies with past publications about Budongo Forest Where appropriate he also compares the Budongo chimpanzees with wild chimpanzees studied at other sites across Africa The result is the most comprehensive account of the Budongo chimpanzees ever published with a wealth of referenced material that will serve as a source of information for many years to come

Chimpanzees of the Lakeshore Toshisada Nishida,2011-12-01 Chimpanzees are humanity s closest living relations and are of enduring interest to a range of sciences from anthropology to zoology In the West many know of the pioneering work of Jane Goodall whose studies of these apes at Gombe in Tanzania are justly famous Less well known but equally important are the studies carried out by Toshisada Nishida on the eastern shore of Lake Tanganyika Comparison between the two sites yields both notable similarities and startling contrasts Nishida has written a comprehensive synthesis of his work on the behaviour and ecology of the chimpanzees of the Mahale Mountains With topics ranging from individual development to population specific behavioural patterns it reveals the complexity of social life from male struggles for dominant status to female travails in raising offspring Richly illustrated the author blends anecdotes with powerful data to explore the fascinating world of the chimpanzees of the lakeshore
