Church/mision Tensions Today C. Peter Wagner, 1972 Green Lake 1971 marked a milestone in the progress of church mission relations The statement and the issue are important for the church for missions and for the evangelical Christian world today as a whole Over 400 leaders of the Evangelical Foreign Missions Association and the Interdenominational Foreign Mission Association met at Green Lake Wisconsin for a week long conference on the issues between the church and missions as the Christian world faces the 1970s One of the results of the conference was a realization that little writing has been done on the subject by the Evangelicals This book will be key reading material for every pastor missionary theological student and missions minded laymen who is concerned with the missionary task of the church in this last third of the twentieth century It contains the most valuable up to date information available on the subject today The writers discuss vital aspects of church mission tension Is the Church Really Necessary The Foreign Missionary A Vanishing Breed Closing Gaps Between Missions and Home Churches Planting Younger Missions Mission and Church in Four Worlds and other chapters that grapple with the problems facing evangelical missions today Transforming Missiology Fohle Lygunda li-M, 2018-02-28 Dr Fohle Lygunda li M provides a thorough analysis of missiological teaching in theological institutions in Africa with special reference to ten Christian universities in the Democratic Republic of the Congo His detailed examination of current teaching of mission theory and practice builds a solid foundation for the articulation of a new paradigm of missiological education In this book Dr Lygunda presents the case for a transformed approach to raising up seminarians who are equipped to lead indigenous missional churches that will fulfil the Great Commission in their own communities and beyond their national borders Church Growth Bulletin Vol 2 McGavran Dona, 1977-05 Eclipse in Mission Rob Goodwin, 2012-07-06 A silent crisis has been taking place for some time now an ongoing eclipse in mission whereby our understanding of what it is has been obscured by the idols of our Christian passions and biblical perspectives Wherever that crisis has been perceived energetic responses have been proposed and much has been done in the name of and for the sake of mission However those responses themselves have often overshadowed the problem of the identity of Christian mission And so we remain in the darkness of understanding mission as we always have done We even impose these understandings onto God calling Him a missionary God and we project our idols of mission onto the sacred Word Here then is an uncomfortable but necessary critique of modern mission and the ground from which it has grown Here too is the proposition of a better basis for understanding what mission is and for outworking it aright in all of our lives By articulating a new paradigm for Christian mission the eclipsed problem of mission in crisis will have been resolved and the missional potential of a global church dynamic with the very Spirit and presence of the living God will be released The Church and Its Mission Orlando E. Costas, 1974 The author answers a crying need for a fresh view of missiology a cogent scholarly pointed analysis of the stance of the Church today in relation to the execution of the Great Commission Here is a piercing look at the varied and often conflicting missiological philosophies of the North Atlantic nations Here is a balanced evaluation of the efforts of evangelicals and ecumenists to find a workable relationship to each other and to the non Christian world Here also is a warm Bible based challenge to the whole Body of Christ and some practical suggestions for the future of world mission
