Cinema 2 The Time Image:

Cinema II Gilles Deleuze, 2013-12-19 The second volume of Gilles Deleuze's landmark reassessment of the art of film now available in the Bloomsbury Revelations series Cinema 2 Gilles Deleuze, 1989 This text continues the major reassessment of cinema begun in Deleuze's Cinema I: The Movement-Image. In this volume Deleuze is concerned with the representation of time in film and with the cinematic treatment of memory, thought, and speech Cinema II Gilles Deleuze, 2020 Gilles Deleuze was one of the most influential figures in twentieth-century philosophy whose master works Difference and Repetition and with Felix Guattari A Thousand Plateaus and Anti-Oedipus have become one of the most widely influential bodies of work in contemporary thought. Cinema II is Deleuze's second work on cinema, completing the reassessment of the art form begun in Cinema I. Influenced by the philosophy of Henri Bergson, Deleuze here offers a compelling analysis of the cinematic treatment of time and memory, thought, and speech. The work draws on examples from major film makers including Federico Fellini, Alfred Hitchcock, and Orson Welles among many others. Abstract Cinema: The time-image Gilles Deleuze, 1986 Discusses the theoretical implications of the cinematographic image based on Henri Bergson's theories

Volume 11, Tome II: Kierkegaard's Influence on Philosophy Jon Stewart, 2016-12-05 Kierkegaard's relation to the field of philosophy is a particularly complex and disputed one. He rejected the model of philosophical inquiry that was mainstream in his day and was careful to have his pseudonymous authors repeatedly disassociate themselves from philosophy. But although it seems clear that Kierkegaard never regarded himself as a philosopher, there can be no doubt that his writings contain philosophical ideas and insights and have been profoundly influential in a number of different philosophical traditions. The tomes in this volume seek to document the different traditions of the philosophical reception of Kierkegaard's thought, and the articles demonstrate the reach of Kierkegaard's writings in philosophical contexts that were often different from his own. The present volume attempts to document these different traditions of the philosophical reception of Kierkegaard's thought. The articles featured here aim to demonstrate the vast reach of Kierkegaard's writings in philosophical contexts that were often quite different from his own. Tome II is dedicated to exploring Kierkegaard's influence on Francophone philosophy. The French intellectual tradition squares well with Kierkegaard's eclectic profile since its leading figures are often difficult to classify unambiguously as philosophers, theologians, literary critics, or simply writers. Kierkegaard's thinking was highly influential for many generations of French philosophers right up to the present. It was not just existentialism that tried to co-opt Kierkegaard for its own purposes; he has also been influential in the context of almost every modern school of French thought: phenomenology, feminism, structuralism, post-structuralism, semiotics, and deconstruction Cinema II Gilles Deleuze, 2005-03-01 Offers a fascinating analysis of the representation of time in film and the cinematic treatment of memory, thought, and speech, and looks at the work of Godard, Hitchcock, and Welles Gilles Deleuze and Film Criticism Dominic Lash, Hoi Lun Law, 2023-08-07 This book is the first collection of essays to offer detailed examinations of the role that close attention to individual films plays in the philosopher Gilles Deleuze's work on cinema. In the last two decades Deleuze's two books on film have had an enormous influence on Film Studies, profoundly affecting thinking about movement, time, history, and other topics. Theoretically ambitious and philosophically rich but clearly written by a broad range of established and emerging international film scholars, the chapters in this volume will both contribute to and in places challenge the vibrant field of Deleuzian film studies. Topics covered range from the relationship of Deleuze to film criticism, the role of theories of movement, and studies of works by major filmmakers including Federico Fellini, Werner Herzog, Vincente Minnelli, and Orson Welles. This book will be of interest not only to specialists in Deleuze but to anybody engaged with the close study of film and its philosophical ramifications.

Deleuze and World Cinemas David Martin-Jones, 2011-02-17 Shortlisted for the British Association of Film, Television and Screen Studies Annual Book Award

Deleuze's Cinema books continue to cause controversy. Although they offer radical new ways of understanding cinema, his conclusions often seem strikingly Eurocentric. Deleuze and World Cinemas explores what happens when Deleuze's ideas are brought into contact with the films he did not discuss: those from Europe and the USA from Georges Méliès to Michael Mann, and a range of world cinemas including Bollywood blockbusters, Hong Kong action movies, Argentine melodramas, and South Korean science fiction movies. These emergent encounters demonstrate the need for the constant adaptation and reinterpretation of Deleuze's findings if they are to have continued relevance, especially for cinema's contemporary engagement with the aftermath of the Cold War and the global dominance of neoliberal globalization.

Understanding Deleuze, Understanding Modernism S. E. Gontarski, Paul Ardoin, Laci Mattison, 2014-08-28 Explores the multi-faceted and formative impact of Gilles Deleuze on the development and our understanding of modernist thought in its philosophical, literary, and more broadly cultural manifestations.

New Philosophies of Film Robert Sinnerbrink, 2011-10-13 This is a critical exploration of analytic and Continental philosophies of film which puts film philosophy into practice with detailed discussions of three filmmakers. The book includes philosophical readings of three key contemporary filmmakers: Malick, Lynch, and Von Trier. It also features links to online resources, guides to further reading, and a filmography.

Time-images Tyrus Miller, 2009 The concept of oetime image this book argues holds broad potential for the historical interpretation of cultural and aesthetic works. Many works that would not ordinarily be thought to be historical artifacts reveal their intrinsic historical character in light of this innovative interpretative concept. The book's first section, oetime Images as Theory and Historiography, considers alternative temporalities underlying historicizing theories and specific practices of history. Examples treated here include the notion of oeretro (avant-gardism) works by the Frankfurt School on the interrelations of images and history, and Mass Observation (TM's dream documentation project). The second section, oetime Images in Modernist and Postmodernist Literature, considers literary instances in which alternative notions of historical time are engaged. These include discussions of Wyndham Lewis and oecultural revolution, Theodor Adorno's reading of Samuel

Beckett TM s Endgame and Pier Paolo Pasolini TM s use of Antonio Gramsci in the practice of poetry and philology The third section oeMoving Images of Time discusses questions of cinema including children TM s experience in films depicting traumatic historical events the Quay Brothers TM animated adaptation of Bruno Schulz TM s oeStreet of Crocodiles and Sergei Eisenstein TM s and Charles Olson TM s engagements in Mexico with pictographic representation etymology and archeological time
