Cinema Romantic Vision:

Driving Visions David Laderman, 2010-01-01 From the visionary rebellion of Easy Rider to the reinvention of home in The Straight Story the road movie has emerged as a significant film genre since the late 1960s able to cut across a wide variety of film styles and contexts Yet within the variety a certain generic core remains constant the journey as cultural critique as exploration beyond society and within oneself This book traces the generic evolution of the road movie with respect to its diverse presentations emphasizing it as an independent genre that attempts to incorporate marginality and subversion on many levels David Laderman begins by identifying the road movie's defining features and by establishing the literary classical Hollywood and 1950s highway culture antecedents that formatively influenced it He then traces the historical and aesthetic evolution of the road movie decade by decade through detailed and lively discussions of key films Laderman concludes with a look at the European road movie from the late 1950s auteurs through Godard and Wenders and at compelling feminist road movies of the 1980s and 1990s

Fairy Tale Films Pauline Greenhill, Sidney Eve Matrix, 2010-08-06 In this the first collection of essays to address the development of fairy tale film as a genre Pauline Greenhill and Sidney Eve Matrix stress the mirror of fairy tale film reflects not so much what its audience members actually are but how they see themselves and their potential to develop or likewise to regress As Jack Zipes says further in the foreword Folk and fairy tales pervade our lives constantly through television soap operas and commercials in comic books and cartoons in school plays and storytelling performances in our superstitions and prayers for miracles and in our dreams and daydreams The artistic re-creations of fairy tale plots and characters in film the parodies the aesthetic experimentation and the mixing of genres to engender new insights into art and life mirror possibilities of estranging ourselves from designated roles along with the conventional patterns of the classical tales Here scholars from film folklore and cultural studies move discussion beyond the well-known Disney movies to the many other filmic adaptations of fairy tales and to the widespread use of fairy tale tropes themes and motifs in cinema

Hitchcock Susan Smith, 2019-07-25 Susan Smith's treatment of the works of the most subtle of all film makers analyses the key elements of suspense humour and tone across the whole of the director's career Arguing that all three are central to our viewing experience the book demonstrates how Hitchcock's masterly integration of those elements is the key to his success as a film maker Examining in detail such films as Sabotage Notorious Rear Window Psycho Shadow of a Doubt Rope and The Birds amongst many others the book discusses the idea of the director as saboteur and the importance of the avoidance of cliché in Hitchcock's narrative

The Writer on Film J. Buchanan, 2013-06-03 Examining films about writers and acts of writing The Writer on Film brilliantly refreshes some of the well-worn adaptation debates by inviting film and literature to engage with each other trenchantly and anew through acts of explicit configuration not adaptation

The Ethnographer's Eye Anna Grimshaw, 2001-04-30 Grimshaw's exploration of the role of vision within modern anthropology engages with current debates about ocularcentism investigating the relationship between vision and knowledge in ethnographic enquiry Using John Berger's notion of ways of seeing the author argues that vision operates differently as a technique and theory of knowledge within the discipline In the first part of the book she examines contrasting visions at work in the so called classical British school reassessing the legacy of Rivers Malinowski and Radcliffe Brown through the lens of early modern art and cinema In the second part of the book the changing relationship between vision and knowledge is explored through the anthropology of Jean Rouch David and Judith MacDougall and Melissa Llewelyn Davies Vision is foregrounded in the work of these contemporary ethnographers focusing more general questions about technique and epistemology whether image based media are used or not in ethnographic enquiry Visions of a New Land Emma Widdis,2003-05-11 This book shows how Soviet cinema encouraged popular support of state initiatives in the years up to the Second World War helping to create a new Russian identity territory an imaginary geography of Sovietness Modernity and the African Cinema Femi Okiremuete Shaka,2004 Providing an analysis of the implications of centuries of Euro African contact and its effect on cinematic institutions in Africa this book examines modern African film from the perspective of the global politics of subjectivity agency and identity construction Max Ophuls and the Cinema of Desire Alan Larson Williams,1980 Link ,1986 To-day's Cinema News and Property Gazette ,1913 Cinema Journal ,1983 Folklore/Cinema Sharon R. Sherman,Mikel J. Koven,2007-09-30 Interest in the conjunctions of film and folklore is stronger and more diverse than ever Ethnographic documentaries on folk life and expression remain a vital genre but scholars such as Mikel Koven and Sharon Sherman also are exploring how folklore elements appear in and merge with popular cinema They look at how movies a popular culture medium can as well be both a medium and type of folklore playing cultural roles and conveying meanings customarily found in other folkloric forms They thus use the methodology of folklore studies to read films made for commercial distribution The contributors to this book look at film and folklore convergences showing how cinema conveys vernacular traditional and popular culture Folklore Cinema will be of interest to scholars from many fields folklore film studies popular culture American studies history anthropology and literature among them and will help introduce students in various courses to intersections of film and culture Cinema Quarterly ,1933 The New Italian Cinema Rick Trader Witcombe,1982 A readable authoritative and critical account of the past two decades of Italian cinema beginning with the now classical directors such as Visconti Fellini and Rossellini through the young masters Pasolini Antonioni Bertolucci and Wertmuller through the newest generation of directors Brusati Tinto Brass and others Included are discussions of the older artists new directions and such specialties as Rossellini's television work A Companion to Media Authorship Jonathan Gray,Derek Johnson,2013-02-12 A Companion to Media Authorship Gray and Johnson have brought together a stellar group of authors whose works deftly explicate the complexities of negotiating authorship across a range of cultural production sites This definitive collection is an important and long overdue contribution to contemporary media studies Serra Tinic author of On Location Canada's Television Industry in a Global Market Wide ranging and global historical and contemporary brimming with insights enlarging our understanding of media production and reception this book is an important contribution to the study of authorship Michael Z Newman author of Indie An American Film Culture While the idea of authorship has transcended the literary to play a meaningful role in the cultures of film television games comics and other emerging digital forms our understanding of it is still too often limited to assumptions about solitary geniuses and individual creative expression A Companion to Media Authorship is a ground breaking collection that reframes media authorship as a question of culture in which authorship is as much a construction tied to authority and power as it is a constructive and creative force of its own Gathering together the insights of leading media scholars and practitioners 28 original chapters map the field of authorship in a cutting edge multi perspective and truly authoritative manner The contributors develop new and innovative ways of thinking about the practices attributions and meanings of authorship They situate and examine authorship within collaborative models of industrial production socially networked media platforms globally diverse traditions of creativity complex consumption practices and a host of institutional and social contexts Together the essays provide the definitive study on the subject by demonstrating that authorship is a field in which media culture can be transformed revitalized and reimagined
