Czechoslovakia's Blueprint for "Freedom" Alexander Dubček, Komunistická strana Československa. Ústřední výbor, 1968

Czechoslovakia's Blueprint for "freedom." Paul Ello (comp), 1968 Analysis of Documents meeting of the Central Committee of the Communist Party of Czechoslovakia May 29 June 1 1968 Reform Rule in Czechoslovakia Galia Golan, 1973 This book studies in detail the reform regime of Alexander Dubcek from the assumption of power in the Party by reform minded communists in January 1968 until Gustav Husik replaced Dubcek as First Secretary The reform regime survived only eight months of genuine rule but it persisted for a further eight months after the Soviet invasion in an agonizing struggle for survival One of the most impressive but little known developments in the era of reform rule was the attempt by the Czechoslovaks to perpetuate the Prague Spring to salvage something of the programme for reform and maintain public faith in the face of Soviet occupation Dr Golan s book a sequel to The Czechoslovak Reform Movement Cambridge 1971 examines the nature and effects of reform rule in nearly every area of society the economy the trade unions and social organizations national and religious minorities the cultural world the Party government the legal and security systems Slovakia and the field of foreign Policy The Logic of "normalization" Fred H. Eidlin, 1980 This volume is a valuable addition to the literature related to the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia in August 1968 The author focusses his analysis on the factors that determined the post invasion normalization primarily in terms of the Czechoslovak response to the invasion which imparted a specific character to the aftermath of the action of the Warsaw Pact Fools and Heroes Peter Hruby, 2013-10-22 Fools and Heroes The Changing Role of Communist Intellectuals in Czechoslovakia details two crucial years of 1948 and 1968 that marked the climax of contradictory developments namely the acceptance and repudiation of Soviet ideology and statecraft Organized into three parts this book begins with the class struggle and moral problems in Czechoslovakia Subsequent part explores the economic problems and social history of the nation The search for truth in terms of history philosophy and politics is also addressed Creating the New Man Yinghong Cheng, 2008-12-31 The idea of eliminating undesirable traits from human temperament to create a new man has been part of moral and political thinking worldwide for millennia During the Enlightenment European philosophers sought to construct an ideological framework for reshaping human nature But it was only among the communist regimes of the twentieth century that such ideas were actually put into practice on a nationwide scale In this book Yinghong Cheng examines three culturally diverse sociopolitical experiments the Soviet Union under Lenin and Stalin China under Mao and Cuba under Castro in an attempt to better understand the origins and development of the new man The book s fundamental concerns are how these communist revolutions strove to create a new morally and psychologically superior human being and how this task paralleled efforts to create a superior society To these ends it addresses a number of questions What are the intellectual roots of the new man concept How was this idealistic and utopian goal linked to specific political and economic programs How do the policies of these particular regimes based as they are on universal communist ideology reflect national and cultural traditions Cheng begins by exploring the origins of the idea of human perfectibility during the Enlightenment His discussion moves to other European intellectual movements and then to the creation of the Soviet Man the first communist new man in world history Subsequent chapters examine China s experiment with human nature starting with the nationalistic debate about a new national character at the turn of the twentieth century and Cuban perceptions of the new man and his role in propelling the revolution from a nationalist to a socialist and finally a communist movement The last chapter considers the global influence of the Soviet Chinese and Cuban experiments Creating the New Man contributes greatly to our understanding of how three very different countries and their leaders carried out problematic and controversial visions and programs It will be of special interest to students and scholars of world history and intellectual social and revolutionary history and also development studies and philosophy
