D W Griffith The Years At Biograph:

D.W. Griffith and the Origins of American Narrative Film Tom Gunning,1994 The legendary filmmaker D W Griffith directed nearly 200 films during 1908 and 1909 his first years with the Biograph Company While those one reel films are a testament to Griffith s inspired genius as a director they also reflect a fundamental shift in film style from cheap amusements to movie storytelling complete with characters and narrative impetus In this comprehensive historical investigation drawing on films preserved by the Library of Congress and the Museum of Modern Art Tom Gunning reveals that the remarkable cinematic changes between 1900 and 1915 were a response to the radical reorganization within the film industry and the evolving role of film in American society The Motion Picture Patents Company the newly formed Film Trust had major economic aspirations The newly emerging industry s quest for a middle class audience triggered Griffith s early experiments in film editing and imagery His unique solutions permanently shaped American narrative film D. W. Griffith: the Years at Biograph Robert M. Henderson,1970-01-01 D.W. Griffith ,1975 First part of two part series on the great film director D W Griffith Working-Class Hollywood Steven J. Ross,2020-06-30 This path breaking book reveals how Hollywood became Hollywood and what that meant for the politics of America and American film Working Class Hollywood tells the story of filmmaking in the first three decades of the twentieth century a time when going to the movies could transform lives and when the cinema was a battleground for control of American consciousness Steven Ross documents the rise of a working class film movement that challenged the dominant political ideas of the day Between 1907 and 1930 worker filmmakers repeatedly clashed with censors movie industry leaders and federal agencies over the kinds of images and subjects audiences would be allowed to see The outcome of these battles was critical to our own times for the victors got to shape the meaning of class in twentieth century America Surveying several hundred movies made by or about working men and women Ross shows how filmmakers were far more concerned with class conflict during the silent era than at any subsequent time Directors like Charlie Chaplin D W Griffith and William de Mille made movies that defended working people and chastised their enemies Worker filmmakers went a step further and produced movies from A Martyr to His Cause 1911 to The Gastonia Textile Strike 1929 that depicted a unified working class using strikes unions and socialism to transform a nation J Edgar Hoover considered these class conscious productions so dangerous that he assigned secret agents to spy on worker filmmakers Liberal and radical films declined in the 1920s as an emerging Hollywood studio system pressured by censors and Wall Street investors pushed American film in increasingly conservative directions Appealing to people s dreams of luxury and upward mobility studios produced lavish fantasy films that shifted popular attention away from the problems of the workplace and toward the pleasures of the new consumer society While worker filmmakers were trying to heighten class consciousness Hollywood producers were suggesting that class no longer mattered Working Class Hollywood shows how silent films helped shape the modern belief that we are a classless nation The Griffith Project, Volume 9 Paolo Cherchi

Usai,2019-07-25 No other silent film director has been so extensively studied as D W Griffith However only a small group of his more than 500 films has been the subject of a systematic analysis and the vast majority of his other works stills await proper examination For the first time in film studies the complete creative output of Griffith from Professional Jealousy 1907 to The Struggle 1931 will be explored in this multi volume collection of contributions from an international team of leading scholars in the field Research Guide to American Historical Biography Suzanne Niemeyer,1988 Description and evaluation of the most important secondary and primary sources for 452 American historical figures in all five volumes T p verso v 5 The New Historical Dictionary of the American Film Industry Anthony Slide,2014-02-25 The New Historical Dictionary of the American Film Industry is a completely revised and updated edition of Anthony Slide s The American Film Industry originally published in 1986 and recipient of the American Library Association s Outstanding Reference Book award for that year More than 200 new entries have been added and all original entries have been updated each entry is followed by a short bibliography As its predecessor the new dictionary is unique in that it is not a who s who of the industry but rather a what s what a dictionary of producing and releasing companies technical innovations industry terms studios genres color systems institutions and organizations etc More than 800 entries include everything from Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences to Zoom Lens from Astoria Studios to Zoetrope Outstanding Reference Source American Library Association

A Short History of the Movies Gerald Mast,Bruce F. Kavin,2003 B The seventh edition of A Short History of the Movies continues the tradition that has made it one of the most popular books ever in film history This volume offers students a panoramic overview of the worldwide development of film from the early Mack Sennett and Charlie Chaplin shorts through the studio heyday of the 1930s and 1940s and the Hollywood Renaissance of the 1960s and 1970s to the pictures and their technology appearing in the multiplexes of today This new edition which has been revised and rewritten to reflect current scholarship and recent industry developments and new films and filmmakers represents an accurate scrupulous updating of a classic Features an emphasis on key historical and aesthetic principles provides solid scholarship in an accessible intelligent and readable format Includes almost 500 color and black and white photographs including frame enlargements and production stills Includes evaluations of great works from such directors as Griffith Ford Scorsese and Hitchcock illuminates conflicts and controversies in many areas of filmmaking Also features extensive treatment of international film enables comparison and contrast between American films and those of other countries particularly Germany Russia France Italy and China For anyone interested in the history of film D.W. Griffith ,1975 First part of a two part series on the great film director D W Griffith Ron Mottram professor of cinema history and director of the 1975 Griffith retrospective at the Museum of Modern Art in New York City interviews silent film star Blanche Sweet about her career and work with Griffith Illustrated with many film clips and photographs Film excerpts include portions of Death s Marathon The Painted Lady Feud in the Kentucky Hills A Corner in Wheat The Informer Country Doctor all made in the early years when Griffith worked for the
