Computer Applications in Nursing Education and Practice Jean M. Arnold, Gayle Angus Pearson, 1992 Computers and Nursing Helen C. Cox, Bennie Harsanyi, Lyn C. Dean, 1987 Using Computers in Nursing Marion J. Ball, Kathryn J. Hannah, 1984 Essentials of Computers for Nurses Virginia K. Saba, Kathleen Ann McCormick, 1996 As computers continue to become more common in the health care industry computer literacy has become an integral part of the nursing profession Selected Book of the Year by the American Journal of Nursing in its first edition this book continues to provide an introduction to computer technology for nurses Essentials of Computers for Nurses Virginia K. Saba, Kathleen Ann McCormick, 2001 The best selling nurses guide to understanding and using computers in the workplace now revised and completely up to date New edition discusses the increasing use of specialized software within nursing curriculums Examines use of the Internet as a powerful research tool the way computers are changing the practice of nursing and the NCLEX telemedicine and more Nursing and Computers Virginia K. Saba, Karen A. Rieder, Dorothy B. Pocklington, 2012-12-06 Intended for nurses who would like to know more about the development of the computerized information systems on which they have become so dependent Nursing and Computers An Anthology is a wide range introduction to the literature of this field The editors have selected historical and contemporary papers to show both the systems at their inception and examples of how they have evolved Of interest to both the generalist and the specialist these articles examine the partnership between nurses and computers in the areas of administration practice research and education Computers in Nursing Linda Q. Thede, 1999 Nurses and computers are increasingly becoming partners in health care This comprehensive introduction to computers provides a foundation in computer basics and applications to nursing education and practice It seeks to prepare students to use computers in their careers as learners and provide concepts that the future nurse will use in clinical practice

Computer Applications in Clinical Practice Daniel Levinson, 1985 Introduction to Nursing Informatics Kathryn J. Hannah, Marion J. Ball, Margaret J.A. Edwards, 2013-04-17 This series is intended for the rapidly increasing number of health care professionals who have rudimentary knowledge and experience in health care computing and are seeking opportunities to expand their horizons It does not attempt to compete with the primers already on the market Eminent international experts will edit author or contribute to each volume in order to provide comprehensive and current accounts of innovations and future trends in this quickly evolving field Each book will be practical easy to use and well referenced Our aim is for the series to encompass all of the health professions by focusing on specific professions such as nursing in individual volumes However integrated computing systems are only one tool for improving communication among members of the health care team Therefore it is our hope that the series will stimulate professionals to explore additional means of fostering interdisciplinary exchange This series springs from a professional collaboration that has grown over the years into a highly valued personal friendship Our joint values put people first If the Computers in Health Care series lets us share

those values by helping health care professionals to communicate their ideas for the benefit of patients then our efforts will have succeeded

Nursing and Computers Virginia K. Saba, Dorothy B. Pocklington, Kenneth P. Miller, 2012-12-06 Nursing and Computers An Anthology 1987 1996 is a compilation of both landmark historic and contemporary papers illustrating the inception and evolution of nursing informatics The editors have collected these newly published independent papers and assembled them into an invaluable source book providing a framework for future developments in the field of Nursing Informatics It will be an essential tool for nurses seeking to attain credentials as Nursing Informatics Specialists The articles demonstrate representative experiences and philosophies in the field attempting to maintain and expand upon the current knowledge base of computer technology in nursing Examining the relationship between nursing and information systems practical applications include administration practice research education critical care and community health

Nursing Informatics Marion J. Ball, Kathryn J. Hannah, Ulla Gerdin Jelger, Hans Peterson, 2013-11-11 Nursing like other health related professions is information intensive The quality of care a patient receives is based on the soundness of judgment exercised by the health care team Underlying sound judgment is up to date information Unless nurses have access to accurate and pertinent information the care being rendered will not be of the highest standard What is required is not necessarily more rapid and efficient information services Modern technology can process immense amounts of data in the blink of an eye What we in the health professions need are information systems that are more intelligent systems that can integrate information from many sources systems that analyze and synthesize information and display it so that it may be applied directly in patient care in other words information that answers a question or even gives practical advice In order to accomplish such objectives work is needed to establish the scientific and theoretical basis for the use of computing and information systems by health professionals This is the research component In addition there is the need for continued development and evaluation of practical information systems
