Balanced Discourses

Gan Xu

Balanced Discourses:

Balanced Discourses Gan Xu, 2002-01-01 Written by the Han philosopher Xu Gan A D 170 217 Balanced Discourses is an inquiry into the causes of political breakdown It provides a unique contemporary account of the social intellectual and cosmological factors that Xu Gan identified as having precipitated the demise of the Han order This edition of Zhonglun or Balanced Discourses contains the original Chinese text with annotations and on facing pages an English translation also accompanied by annotations This collection of essays spans a range of topics from Confucian cultivation to calendrical calculation Xu's perspectives are of not only historical but also philosophical interest for they reveal his belief in a special correlative bond that should exist between names and actualities and his understanding of what happens when that bond is broken The translator John Makeham argues in his introduction that the essays display the same quality of balance that Xu Gan sees as essential to social and political equilibrium

The Halberd at Red Cliff Xiaofei Tian, 2020-10-26 The turn of the third century CE known as the Jian'an era or Three Kingdoms period holds double significance for the Chinese cultural tradition Its writings laid the foundation of classical poetry and literary criticism Its historical personages and events have also inspired works of poetry fiction drama film and art throughout Chinese history including Internet fantasy literature today There is a vast body of secondary literature on these two subjects individually but very little on their interface The image of the Jian an era with its feasting drinking heroism and literary panache as well as intense male friendship was to return time and again in the romanticized narrative of the Three Kingdoms How did Jian an bifurcate into two distinct nostalgias one of which was the first paradigmatic embodiment of wen literary graces cultural patterning and the other of wu heroic martial virtue How did these largely segregated nostalgias negotiate with one another And how is the predominantly male world of the Three Kingdoms appropriated by young women in contemporary China The Halberd at Red Cliff investigates how these associations were closely related in their complex origins and then came to be divergent in their later metamorphoses
