Balliol Studies John M. Prest, 1982 The Collected Works of Gerard Manley Hopkins: Volume IV: Oxford Essays and Notes 1863-1868 Gerard Manley Hopkins, 2006-10-05 The first of eight volumes of Hopkins's Collected Works to be published Oxford Essays and Notes presents a remarkable cache of previously unpublished papers including forty five essays which Hopkins produced during his undergraduate career at Oxford 1863-1867 only seven of which were reproduced in the 1959 edition of Journals and Papers Topics range from Platonic philosophy to theories of the imagination from ancient history to then contemporary politics and voting rights Also included are notes from a commonplace book a remarkable dialogue about aesthetics featuring a fictionalized John Ruskin figure and the lecture notes Hopkins prepared in the winter of 1868 while teaching at John Henry Newman's Oratory School in Birmingham writings in which he explores for the first time the theories of inscape and instress so central to his poetic practice The edition is fully annotated and provides a detailed introduction that situates historically Hopkins's academic and creative efforts The twelve notebooks represent Hopkins's intellectual and aesthetic development while studying with some of the greatest scholars of the era Benjamin Jowett Walter Pater and T H Green as well as the ethical and spiritual anxieties he wrestled with while deciding to convert to Catholicism John Henry Newman received him into the Church in 1866 Hopkins never wrote to please his tutors or the university professors he wrote vividly and searchingly in response to the challenges they presented Whether evaluating Aristotle's Nicomachean Ethics the role of neutral England in the American civil war or the comparative merits of classical sculpture his first instinct was always to frame the difficult questions involved and work towards a counter argument Frederick Temple, Archbishop of Canterbury Peter Bingham Hinchliff, 1998 This is the first full length serious biography of Frederick Temple an eminent nineteenth century figure and father of William Temple who was Archbishop of Canterbury during the Second World War Born on a Greek island of middle class but impoverished parents he was educated at Balliol College on a scholarship became principal of a college which trained teachers for pauper children then headmaster of Rugby and Bishop successively of Exeter and London before finally becoming Archbishop of Canterbury at the age of 76 in 1897 In the realm of education he could be considered the real designer of the Oxford and Cambridge Examination Board in the 1850s was a contributor to the first of the scandalous volumes of liberal theology Essays and Reviews in 1860 was secretary of the Taunton Commission on grammar school education in 1868 and gave the Bampton lectures of 1884 on science and religion which made the theory of evolution respectable As Bishop of London he attempted to mediate in the London dock strike of 1889 was responsible for the final form of the Archbishop's reply to the Pope's encyclical on Anglican orders presided over the Archbishop's Headings on certain ritual practices in the Church Crisis at the end of the century was much involved in Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee celebrations and crowned Edward VII He collapsed in the House of Lords after speaking in the debate on the education bill of 1902 and died soon afterwards To gather the material for this fluent and attractive biography the author has made use of the

Temple family papers most of which have been hitherto unpublished as well as the more than 100 volumes of the Archbishop's official papers at Lambeth Palace
