Call It Murder:

It's Called Murder, Brenda. Look It up! Dakota Cassidy, 2025-08-05 Welcome to my worst effin nightmare The Accidental Detective Agency I m Nina Staleon a vampire with a little bit of witch thrown in for good measure a sucky magicless one if anyone asks for those interested My best friends Marty a werewolf and and Wanda a halvesie have talked me into opening a detective agency for paranormals Let me be real clear I do not want to be a detective and I think this idea is bananapants Now the dungeon in my castle in Long Island is our new office I call the murder basement filled with watercolor landscapes throw rugs and uncomfortable furniture all in the name of making our clients comfortable That said my partners in this new adventure don t care about all my protests That s how we end up with our first client Brenda Bronkowski an older vampire the human police are hunting down for murder Brenda fell for one of the oldest tricks in this new age of technology s book a romance scam Lonely and sad with only her pets for companionship Brenda hooked up with a human a much younger one You guessed it Brenda was catfished Now that much younger human Owen Barker is dead leaving behind a wife and two kids Brenda swears she s never even met him let alone murdered him and she s come to us for help finding the person responsible for his murder Not only is the suspect list low like we only have two there s a glitch and it s a big one The clan They don t like it when a vampire s been accused of murdering a human They take you out ask questions later Brenda s technically a fugitive we re harboring while we investigate It s bad enough the human police like her for Owen s murder but if the clan finds out we ve got her holed up in the murder basement it won t only be curtains for Brenda our little private investigating gig could be over before it s really begun Which wouldn t exactly be the end of the world for me but my over achieving BFFs would never let me hear the end of it That means we need to solve this pronto so we can get the clan off our backs but more importantly so Brenda doesn t end up expunged

Modern Literature and the Death Penalty, 1890-1950 Katherine Ebury, 2021-02-10 This book examines how the cultural and ethical power of literature allowed writers and readers to reflect on the practice of capital punishment in the UK Ireland and the US between 1890 and 1950 It explores how connections between high and popular culture seem particularly inextricable where the death penalty is at stake analysing a range of forms including major works of canonical literature detective fiction plays polemics criminological and psychoanalytic tracts and letters and memoirs The book addresses conceptual understandings of the modern death penalty including themes such as confession the gothic life writing and the human animal binary It also discusses the role of conflict in shaping the representation of capital punishment including chapters on the Easter Rising on World War I on colonial and quasi colonial conflict and on World War II Ebury s overall approach aims to improve our understanding of the centrality of the death penalty and the role it played in major twentieth century literary movements and historical events
