WASHBURN,2018 Calvin Coolidge Robert Morris Washburn,2016-09-08 Excerpt from Calvin Coolidge His First Biography From Cornerstone to Capstone to the Accession IT was only a plain New England farm among the folks of the hills of Vermont There was neither train nor telephone nor trolley It was much as God had made it There lay a child young and weak and helpless and a mother proud in the gift of prophecy And there stood by the child s cradle one great and powerful Fate She had sought him out in his simple atmosphere Her protecting arm she raised above him She took him by the hand and ever led him on She saw in him virtue to be recognized Capacity was quick to see and to seize opportunity She commissioned into the service a good and a great merchant of Boston She cried gangway to a creditable public servant who stood high and third on Beacon Hill who blocked his progress who was then drafted into the grand army of the politically dead She commanded striking policemen to open a path before him A great Police Commissioner gave wings to his feet She led him towards horizons as boundless as the seas fame power and financial freedom She set him in the seats of the mighty Even Death rode on before him and cleared the way About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
