Hayes,2009-09-15 The life of Edgar Allan Poe 1809 49 is the quintessential writer s biography great works arising from a life of despair poverty alcoholism and a mysterious solitary death It may seem like a cliché now but it was Poe who helped shape this idea in th A literary comparison of Edgar Allan Poe's "The Black Cat" and "The Tell-Tale Heart" Selina Schuster,2013-09-16 Seminar paper from the year 2011 in the subject American Studies Literature grade 2 0 University of Paderborn Institut f r Anglistik Amerikanistik course Proseminar American Gothic language English abstract And much of Madness and more of Sin And Horror the Soul to the Plot This line taken from Edgar Allan Poe s poem The Conqueror Worm perfectly describes the essential elements featured in many of Poe s poems and stories on which I am about to write in particular Madness and horror sins and the Imp of the Perverse The Evil which lies within all of us are popular and frequently recurring motives in Poe s literary works and thereby create a mood and atmosphere quite dark and nightmarish The reader is offered a deep glance into the abyss of the human mind and psyche In this term paper I m going to draw a comparison between two of Poe s short stories which both deal with the above mentioned concepts and images and therefore are counted to the Gothic Genre The Black Cat and The Tell Tale Heart The main focus of my work will lie on the similarities of the storytelling structures and the speech Poe uses to convey this certain feeling of suspense horror and thrill I will examine which further motives and images Poe uses in this two stories and which function they fulfil I m going to carry out my researches primarily with the help of the books Poe by Walter Lenning Poe A Biography by Frank T Zumbach The Cambridge Companion to Gothic Fiction by Jerrod Hogle and The Fall of the House of Usher and Other Writings by Edgar Allan Poe Mystery, Murder and the Moorland. Devon-Spaces in British Detective Fiction of the 20th and 21st Century Cristina da Silva Ferreira,2014-03-13 Examination Thesis from the year 2014 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 1 0 University of Paderborn language English abstract This thesis will start with some general assumptions on spatiality in literature and outline its importance for detective fiction The focus will be on the concepts of space and place by de Certeau Lefebvre and Lotman Afterwards in the subchapter on the geographical and physical context crucial dichotomies of space which have an influence on detective novels will be examined especially the distinction between open and enclosed spaces The chapter that follows will deal with three concrete novels of different eras to explore the representation of Devon with regard to the specific dichotomy mentioned above Arthur Conan Doyle s The Hound of the Baskervilles 1902 and Agatha Christie s novel The Sittaford Mystery 1931 both depict Devon in the early and middle twentieth century while Simon Beckett s The Calling of the Grave 2010 shows a contemporary idea of how this region is perceived A comparative analysis of these three novels will follow in order to point out the similarities and differences of Devon spaces as well as to underline how they together create its overall image In this way this chapter shows that new inventions have only changed this location and its perception at the surface but not in its core Since there are many adaptations of Doyle s novel the fourth chapter will take a closer look at two medial representations of Devon and compare the literary with the medial space The popular film adaptation by Lanfield from 1939 and an episode of the BBC Series Sherlock a reimagining contemporary update of Doyle s classic will serve as examples Although many aspects of the adaptations could be compared to the novel the interest will primarily be in the cinematographic realisation of spaces Furthermore the question of how far these spaces coincide with the image of Devon created by literature will be discussed Subsequently the conclusion will finally summarise the findings of this thesis and suggest possibilities to expand the topic of British detective fiction and Devon spaces
