Language, Culture, Computation: Computing for the Humanities, Law, and Narratives Nachum Dershowitz, Ephraim Nissan, 2014-12-04. This Festschrift volume is published in honor of Yaacov Choueka on the occasion of his 75th birthday. The present three volumes, liber amicorum several years in gestation, honors this outstanding Israeli computer scientist and is dedicated to him and to his scientific endeavours. Yaacov's research has had a major impact not only within the walls of academia but also in the daily life of lay users of such technology that originated from his research. An especially amazing aspect of the temporal span of his scholarly work is that half a century after his influential research from the early 1960s, a project in which he is currently involved is proving to be a sensation as will become apparent from what follows. Yaacov Choueka began his research career in the theory of computer science dealing with basic questions regarding the relation between mathematical logic and automata theory. From formal languages, Yaacov moved to natural languages. He was a founder of natural language processing in Israel, developing numerous tools for Hebrew. He is best known for his primary role together with Aviezri Fraenkel in the development of the Responsa Project, one of the earliest fulltext retrieval systems in the world. More recently, he has headed the Friedberg Genizah Project, which is bringing the treasures of the Cairo Genizah into the Digital Age. This second part of the three volume set covers a range of topics related to the application of information technology in humanities, law, and narratives. The papers are grouped in topical sections on humanities, computing, narratives, and their formal representation, history of ideas, the numerate disciplines, law, computer law, and legal computing.

Jews and Judaism in the Middle Ages Theodore L. Steinberg, 2008. Steinberg, English SUNY at Fredonia. Reading the Middle Ages presents a well-researched yet highly accessible overview of medieval Jewry that takes neither a predominantly Western Christian approach to medieval history nor one limited to Hebrew-speaking audiences. Steinberg bridges the gap between works by medieval historians possessing a deep knowledge of the period but having almost no knowledge of the unique role and contributions of Jews during the era, and works by Jewish scholars presuming in the reader a prior knowledge of Jewish identity, history, culture, and language. He clears up many misconceptions along the way, e.g. that Jewish life in the Middle Ages was a succession of horrors, arguing that an overemphasis on Jewish suffering has left scholars with a distorted picture of Jewish history He also highlights major contributions from Jewish philosophers and scholars of the period that culminated in the greatest achievement of the era the rise of Rabbinic Judaism Scholarly yet highly accessible this book fills a significant gap in the literature of the field and is recommended for all academic and most public libraries Brian Greene Northeastern Univ Libs Boston Copyright Reed Business Information a division of Reed Elsevier Inc All rights reserved The Journal of Jewish Studies ,2005 The Expository Times James Hastings,Ann Wilson Hastings,Edward Hastings,1898 Jewish Historical Studies ,2003 The Expository Times ,1898 European Journal of Jewish Studies ,2008 Revue de Qumrân ,2003 The Jewish Quarterly ,2003 Mamlūk Studies Review ,2005 International Bibliography of Book Reviews of Scholarly Literature Chiefly in the Fields of Arts and Humanities and the Social Sciences ,2002 Marranos on the Moradas Norman Toby Simms,2009 Simms redefines the study of two often misunderstood religious groups the Marranos who claim descent from the persecuted Spanish Jews forced to convert to Catholicism yet who practiced Jewish rituals secretly and the Penitentes a Catholic group accused of violent acts of self flagellation and other forms of masochism The Jews of Europe in the Middle Ages (tenth to Fifteenth Centuries) Christoph Cluse,2004 This collection aims at a comprehensive and comprehensible overview describing the variety of historical experience for European Jewries from c 1000 to c 1500 Regional overviews are supplemented by studies on cultural economic social and linguistic aspects as well as by portraits of individual northern Jewish communities The collection highlights the similarities and differences among the various European Jewish cultures demonstrating that these cultures were no less European than they were Jewish At the same time the Jewish heritage has deeply influenced medieval and modern European majority cultures This cultural symbiosis was epitomized in the European Jewish community kabal aljama Report of the Oxford Centre for Hebrew and Jewish Studies Oxford Centre for Hebrew and Jewish Studies,2002
