Perpetual Scriptures in Nineteenth-Century America Jeff Smith,2023-08-10 In the tumultuous decades of rapid expansion and change between the American Founding and the Civil War Americans confronted a cluster of overlapping crises whose common theme was the difficulty of finding authority in written texts The issue arose from several disruptive developments rising challenges to the traditional authority of the Bible in a society that was intensely Protestant persistent worries over America s lack of a national literature and an independent cultural identity and the slavery crisis which provoked tremendous struggles over clashing interpretations of the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution even as these parascriptures were rising to the status of a kind of quasi sacred secular canon At the same time but from the opposite direction new mass media were creating a new industrial scale print culture that put a premium on very non sacred disposable text mass produced news dispensed immediately and in huge quantities but meant only for the day or hour

Perpetual Scriptures in Nineteenth Century America identifies key features of the writings careers and cultural politics of several prominent Americans as responses to this cluster of challenges In their varied attempts to vindicate the sacred and to merge the timeless with the urgent present Joseph Smith Ralph Waldo Emerson Margaret Fuller Theodore Parker Harriet Beecher Stowe Walt Whitman Frederick Douglass Martin Delany Abraham Lincoln and other religious and political leaders and men and women of letters helped define American literary culture as an ongoing quest for new bibles or what Emerson called a perpetual scripture

Owens,2022-10-03 How Barbara Jordan used sacred and secular scriptures in her social activism US Congresswoman Barbara Jordan is well known as an interpreter and defender of the Constitution particularly through her landmark speech during Richard Nixon s 1974 impeachment hearings However before she developed faith in the Constitution Jordan had faith in Christianity In My Faith in the Constitution is Whole Barbara Jordan and the Politics of Scripture Robin L Owens shows how Jordan turned her religious faith and her faith in the Constitution into a powerful civil religious expression of her social activism Owens begins by examining the lives and work of the nineteenth century Black female orator activists Maria W Stewart and Anna Julia Cooper Stewart and Cooper fought for emancipation and women s rights by scripturalizing or using religious scriptures to engage in political debate Owens then demonstrates how Jordan built upon this tradition by treating the Constitution as an American scripture to advocate for racial justice and gender equality Case studies of key speeches throughout Jordan s career show how she quoted the Constitution and other founding documents as sacred texts used them as sociolinguistic resources and employed a discursive rhetorical strategy of indirection known as signifying on scriptures Jordan's particular use of the Constitution deeply connected with her background and religious racial and gender identity represents the agency and power reflected in her speeches Jordan's strategies also illustrate a broader phenomenon of scripturalization outside of institutional religion and its rhetorical and interpretive possibilities
