Commercio, 2022-12-06 During Soviet rule the state all but imposed atheism on the primarily Islamic people of Kyrgyzstan and limited the tradition of polygyny a form of polygamy in which one man has multiple wives Polygyny did continue under communism though chiefly under concealment In the decades since the fall of the Soviet Union the practice has reemerged Based on extensive fieldwork Polygynous Marriages among the Kyrgyz argues that this marriage practice has become socially acceptable and widely dispersed not only because it is rooted in customary law and Islamic practice but because it can also enable men and women to meet societal expectations and solve practical economic problems that resulted from the fall of the Soviet Union Michele E Commercio's analysis suggests the normalization of polygyny among the Kyrgyz in contemporary Kyrgyzstan is due both to institutional change in the form of altered governmental rules and expectations and to institutional endurance in the form of persistent hegemonic constructions of gender Think Twice, Second Wife Sandra Lee Kellam, 2007-12-01 Why doesn't she leave him is the oft asked question about women who live in abusive relationships but for them the question is more How can I leave him for many such women get hooked into the unreality of the dance of lies and broken promises that the abuser orchestrates When Ruth the wife in a clergy couple inadvertently opens an e mail from a friend and realizes that it is not for her but for her husband and that it explicitly anticipates a wild sexual encounter something finally snaps and she is empowered to walk out on a thirty five year relationship which was punctuated by her husband's infidelity always with her friends his violence and his struggle to discover who he really is by assumed personas You were with him too charts the leaving and the staying and the resolution of Ruth's concern about her own sanity The story unfolds through narrative and through hindsight in short story form as Ruth discovers that me myself and I are finally one Women and Confucianism in Chosŏn Korea Youngmin Kim, Michael J. Pettid, 2011-11-01 This volume offers a fresh multifaceted exploration of women and Confucianism in mid to late Chosŏn Korea mid sixteenth to early twentieth century Using primary sources and perspectives from social history intellectual history literature and political thought contributors challenge unitary views of Confucianism as a system of thought of women as a group and of the relationship between the two Much earlier scholarship has focused on how women were oppressed under the strict patriarchal systems that emerged as Confucianism became the dominant social ideology during the Choson dynasty 1392-1910 Contributors to this volume bring to light the varied ways that diverse women actually lived during this era from elite yangban women to women who were enslaved Women are shown to have used various strategies to seek status economic rights and more comfortable spaces with some women even emerging as Confucian intellectuals and exemplars The Second Wife Eugenie Marlitt,1902 Pious and Rebellious Avraham Grossman,2004-06 Woman's status in historical perspective p 273 His Second Wife Ernest Poole,1918 Marabout Women in Dakar Amber B. Gemmeke,2008 This rich ethnographic study explores the life and work of successful marabout women in Dakar It is set against the background of their private family lives of developments in Senegalese society and of global changes While including female experts in spirit possession and plant based healing it also gives a rare insight in the work of women who offer Islamic knowledge such as Arabic astrology numerology divination and prayer sessions With the analysis of marabout women's work this study sheds light on the ways in which women's authority in esoteric knowledge is negotiated legitimated and publicly recognised in Dakar The study focuses especially upon marabout women's strategies to gain their clients trust Reference to rural areas is a significant element in this process This study thus contributes to an understanding of the gendered way in which trust and scepticism are related to marabouts work and of the role of a connection between Dakar and the rural areas therein How to Survive as a Second Wife Maggie Drummond,1997-09-01 Record Series Yorkshire Archaeological and Topographical Association,1910 pt.
