Making a Difference Micki M. Caskey, 2005-06-01 Volume V explores action research in middle grades education highlighting how educators use it to effect positive change It examines various contexts and configurations including individual and collaborative approaches to gain insights into teaching and learning processes The Right to Difference Nicole Coleman, 2021-10-14 The Right to Difference examines novels that depict human rights violations in order to explore causes of intergroup violence within diverse societies using Germany as a test case In these texts the book shows that an exaggeration of difference between minority and majority groups leads to violence Germany has become increasingly diverse over the past decades due to skilled labor migration and refugee movements In light of this diversity this book s approach transcends a divide between migrant and post migrant German literature on the one hand and a national literature on the other hand Addressing competing definitions of national identity as well as the contest between cultural homogeneity and diversity the author redefines the term intercultural literature It becomes not a synonym for authors who do not belong to a national literature such as migrant writers but a way of reading literature with an intercultural lens This book builds a theory of intercultural literature that focuses on the multifaceted nature of identity in which ethnicity represents only one of many characteristics defining individuals To develop intercultural competence one needs to adopt a complex image of individuals that allows for commonalities and differences by complicating the notion of sharp contrasts between groups Revealing the affective allegiances formed around other characteristics gender profession personal motivations relationships and more allows for similarities that grouping into large homogeneous and seemingly exclusive entities conceals Eight novels analyzed in this book remember and reveal human rights violations such as genocide internment and torture violent expulsion the reasons for fleeing a country dangerous flight routes and the difficulty of settling in a new country Some of these novels allow for affective identification with diverse characters and cast the protagonists as individuals with plural perspectives and identities rather than monolithic members of one large national or ethnic group whereas others emphasize the commonalities of all people Ultimately the author makes the case for German Studies to contribute to an antiracist approach to diversity by redefining what it means to be German and establishing difference as a fundamental human right

Waiting is the Night: Finding Hope

When You're Stuck on the Other Side of Dawn Shannon Brink,2023-05-09 We all go through seasons of waiting times when God just seems to have closed His ears to us and turned His back During those seasons it s easy for us to give up hope and lose heart But what if we hold on to the hope that God is working behind the scenes even if we can t see Him What can we learn from those times of waiting Shannon Brink has experienced those seasons herself after various injuries forced her to stay in bed for weeks on end while she was facing possible infertility but longed to be a mother as door after door closed on her dreams of living in a far away land and now as she waits for sleep to come while battling chronic insomnia As a former nighttime nurse Shannon knows that the hardest time of the waiting season is at night when our thoughts take over and worry invades Drawing from her own experiences and from the examples of God's people in the Bible who also experienced seasons of waiting Shannon encourages the reader to hold on to the One Who created us and has only our good in mind While waiting in the dark cling to the Light All Our Working Lives Peter Pagnamenta, R. J. Overy, 1984 Innovation Sucks! Alan Watkins, Simon May, 2021-03-14 Businesses spend billions on innovation with very little to show for their investment or effort This book challenges some of the ingrained truths of innovation and suggests a different approach Innovation is not the creation of a novel idea It is the successful commercialisation of that novel idea Rather than starting with a costly time consuming problem assessment that seeks to push potential solutions through an innovation funnel an impeller approach starts with possible solutions and gets the market to pull the best ones forward so they can fail fast or flourish fast This approach is made possible by the addition of a bee a new type of integrative thinker who can harvest the existing knowledge from the meadow of experts Completely reversing the innovation process means organisations are much better placed to win in the market rather than focusing on finding theoretical solutions or clearing innovation stage gates In addition this approach also recognises that the people who shepherd the solution through the ideation and testing stage are not the same people who must then take that solution to market for successful commercialisation Given the current innovation failure rate coupled with the fact that society is beset with multiple wicked problems it's time to think differently and innovate innovation itself This book is essential reading for Heads of Innovation and Commercialisation Directors of Marketing Heads of New Product Development and New Service Development Strategy Directors Chief Technology Officers Government advisers and policy makers
