From Career to Calling Suzanne Cremen, 2020-04-28 Finalist in the Australian Career Book Award 2020 supported by the Royal Society of Arts Oceania Finding and following an authentic calling challenges us to bridge both the intuitive soulful and the hard edged material dimensions of everyday life From Career to Calling A Depth Psychology Guide to Soul Making Work in Darkening Times opens new avenues for vocational exploration and career inquiry in an imaginative way This unique book draws on insights from the field of Jungian and archetypal psychology to reimagine our attitudes and approaches to work money vocational guidance and career development As people find themselves disillusioned with or disenfranchised from capitalist notions of work and career Suzanne Cremen s interdisciplinary approach illuminates how a creative meaningful and influential work life can emerge from attending to the archetypal basis of experience Interweaving elements of her own journey Cremen connects individual experience with the collective in an original way spotlighting depression in the legal profession marginalization of the feminine principle in work environments and how understanding the roots of our cultural complexes can spark personal callings which facilitate collective transformation Blending compelling real life stories with robust scholarly analysis and reflective activities this book will help practitioners to support individuals to develop a sense of their souls calling and offer guidance on creating an authentic vocational life within the constraints of the contemporary era. Additionally, it will be invaluable to those in career transition re-discovering their purpose at the end of a career or commencing work life.

Formation and the Person Alessandro Manenti, Stefano Guarinelli, Hans Zollner, 2007. This book gathers the foundational concepts which characterise the approach to the person as human and as Christian which has been developed at the Institute of Psychology of the Pontifical Gregorian University during its more than 35 years of activity. The book directs these concepts towards further paths for investigation and puts them in dialogue with sister schools of depth psychology and with other areas of scholarship in particular philosophy and theology which are equally interested in exploring the human mystery. Hence the variety of authors, psychologists, philosophers and theologians brought together by a common interest in understanding and forming the human person in better ways. The reflections contained in this book gain concrete expression in an educative therapeutic practice and they review the nodal points which are part of every journey of growth and of psychotherapy: personal identity, interaction with the external world and the attainment of personal truth, inner imagination, desires and affections, conflicts. Instruments are offered to enable the formator and the psychotherapist to make the best possible use of the great energies which are made available by their application: how to identify the real problem, where to concentrate one's attention, what to listen to, how to handle the relationship, on what element to act in order to promote improvement, cure, what kind of change to propose. While accompaniment and psychotherapy are different procedures, they nevertheless have many similarities and points of contact. The dynamic relations and the factors involved in growth which this book describes are valid for both modalities of intervention and will be of interest to anyone who wishes to help others in a more enlightened educative dialogue.

Entering and Leaving Vocation Luigi M. Rulla, Joyce Ridick, Franco Imoda, 1976. In this research the authors find universal patterns in those who enter religious life and in those who will later leave.

The Concept of the Foreign Rebecca Saunders, 2003-01-01. The Concept of the Foreign investigates the diverse and consequential uses of the concept of the foreign, a formidable and hitherto untheorized force in everyday discourse and practice. This highly original work, whose experimental nature moves beyond traditional academic bounds, undertakes to theorize the meanings, deployments and consequences of foreignness, a term largely overlooked by academic debates. Innovative in format, the book comprises an introductory theoretical dialogue and seven essays, each authored by a scholar from a different discipline: anthropology, literary theory, psychology, philosophy, social work, history, and women's studies, who investigate how his/her disciplines engage and define the concept of the foreign. Drawing out literal and metaphorical meanings of foreignness, this wide-ranging volume offers much to scholars of postcolonial, gender, and cultural studies seeking new approaches to the study of alterity.
