Barter Exchange And Value An Anthropological Approach:

Barter, Exchange and Value Caroline Humphrey, Stephen Hugh-Jones, 1992-06-11 This book concerns barter a transaction in which objects are exchanged directly for one another without the use of money Economists treat barter as an inefficient alternative to market exchange and assume that it is normal only in primitive economies or marks the breakdown of more developed exchange mechanisms For their part anthropologists have been more interested in the social and moral complexities of the gift and treat barter dismissively as mere haggling The authors of this collection do not accept that barter occupies a residual space between monetary and gift economies Using accounts from different parts of the world they aim to demonstrate that it is more than a simple and self evident economic institution Barter may constitute a mode of exchange with its own social characteristics occupying a specific moral space This novel treatment of barter represents an original and topical addition to the literature on economic anthropology

Understanding Cultural Transmission in Anthropology Roy Ellen, Stephen J. Lycett, Sarah E. Johns, 2013-08-01 The concept of cultural transmission is central to much contemporary anthropological theory since successful human reproduction through social systems is essential for effective survival and for enhancing the adaptiveness of individual humans and local populations Yet what is understood by the phrase and how it might best be studied is highly contested This book brings together contributions that reflect the current diversity of approaches from the fields of biology primatology palaeoanthropology psychology social anthropology ethnobiology and archaeology to examine social and cultural transmission from a range of perspectives and at different scales of generalization The comprehensive introduction explores some of the problems and connections Overall the book provides a timely synthesis of current accounts of cultural transmission in relation to cognitive process practical action and local socio ecological context while linking these with explanations of longer term evolutionary trajectories

Anthropologies of Value Luis Fernando Angosto-Ferrandez, Geir Henning Presterudstuen, 2016-08-20 Anthropologies of Value analyses the creation of value in a wide range of political and cultural contexts This edited collection includes anthropological case studies from around the globe from the commodification of a Venezuelan waterfall to the relative value of penguins in periods of imperialist expansion Questioning the validity of binary oppositions such as north south core periphery and west the rest as the basis of generalisations about culturally mediated engagements with capitalism this collection leaves no stone unturned in its search to understand and define anthropological value theory It provides much needed controversial new material for students of anthropology and proposes an alternative rarely discussed method of studying the world system which challenges mainstream existing work in the field

Barter and Social Regeneration in the Argentinean Andes Olivia Angé, 2018-09-01 Despite the pervasiveness of barter across societies this mode of transaction has largely escaped the anthropologist s gaze Drawing on data from fairs in the Argentinean Andes this book addresses a local modality of barter known as cambio Bringing out its embeddedness within religious celebrations it argues that cambio is practiced as a sacrifice to catholic figures and local ancestors thereby challenging a widespread view of barter as a non monetary form of commodity exchange This ethnography of Andean barter considers processes of value creation both economic and subjective to further our understanding of how social groups create themselves through economic exchanges Social Foundations of Markets, Money and Credit Costas Lapavistas,2003-09-04 Where does the power of money come from Why is trust so important in financial operations How does the swapping of gifts differ from the exchange of commodities Where does self interest stop and communal solidarity start in capitalist economies These issues and many more are discussed in a rigorous yet readable manner in Social Foundations of Nomad Properties Anna Möllers,Dirk Schuck,Bernhard Kleeberg,2026-01-22 What does the discourse on nomadism say about anthropological concepts of western societies This edited volume relates historical instances of nomadism to the role of the nomad in political discourses and recent theoretical debates The figure of the nomad was and still is constructed as an antagonist within a neo liberal frame of narratives about sedentarism productivity and improvement Whereas the discourse about nomadism in the 18th and 19th century was entangled with colonial contexts and ideas about so called primitive societies it became even more multifaceted in the 20th century considering ideas about nomadic thinking of Deleuze or Guattari and different forms of modern nomadism on the rise from travelling day laborers to refugees of war to scientists to a global managerial class <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-sa/4.0/legalcode> Valuing Dance Susan Leigh Foster,2019-02-01 Because dance materializes through and for people because we learn to dance from others and often present dance to others the moment of its transmission is one of dance s central and defining features Valuing Dance looks at the occasion when dancing passes from one person to another as an act of exchange one that is redolent with symbolic meanings including those associated with its history and all the labor that has gone into its making It examines two ways that dance can be exchanged as commodity and as gift reflecting on how each establishes dance s relative worth and merit differently When and why do we give dance Where and to whom do we sell it How are such acts of exchange rationalized and justified Valuing Dance poses these questions in order to contribute to a conversation around what dance is what it does and why it matters

Domesticity on Display Maria Cristache,2021-10-23 This book examines postsocialist transformations reflected in urban middle class domestic spaces and in museums dedicated to socialism in Romania It focuses on the significance and circulation of porcelain and crystal sets and ornaments during late socialism and after 1989 following the experiences of consumers workers in the glassware and porcelain industry and artists By tracing the values and temporalities embedded in materiality the book sheds light on how objects shape daily life in a time of cultural economic and social change Drawing on ethnographic research the book offers an in depth analysis of the ambiguous relation between the middle class and the socialist state using materiality and consumption to shed light on contradictions between aspirations and resources and between official discourses and everyday practices The book reveals changes in practices of display gift exchange and barter in the perception and use of time as well as in gender and inter generational relations This work will be of interest to sociologists anthropologists and cultural historians especially researchers interested in consumption material culture postsocialism the anthropology of value and gift the study of social time practices of the middle class and the history of consumption in Eastern Europe The Journal of the Royal Anthropological Institute ,2001 Articles on all aspects of anthropology Perspectives on the Caribbean Philip W. Scher,2009-09-15 perspectives on The Caribbean perspectives on The Caribbean Genuflecting to no tired metaphors this is a refreshing collection of cross disciplinary voices that compel new ways of seeing and thinking about the still undiscovered Caribbean Patricia Mohammed University of the west Indies St Augustine Presenting a broad understanding of the complex region of the Caribbean Perspectives on the Caribbean A Reader in Culture History and Representation provides a variety of viewpoints on the rich spectrum of Caribbean culture Essays carefully chosen from a vast body of existing literature expose readers to a variety of approaches voices and topics that have emerged in Caribbean studies Readings are interdisciplinary in nature and integrate themes from history folklore sociology anthropology and political economy Both contemporary viewpoints and classic readings reveal how the Caribbean has led scholars to new ways of exploring cultural hybridity in contemporary society Each section includes brief introductions to put the readings in context with the connections between modern Caribbean culture and its historical roots and also includes suggested readings for more in depth study Perspectives on the Caribbean offers revealing insights into one of the most diverse and complex regions in the Americas Inside the Revolution Mona Rosendahl,1997 The first ethnographic study of life in Cuba to emerge in over twenty years Inside the Revolution offers a rare close view of how socialist ideology translates into everyday experience in one Cuban municipality Mona Rosendahl draws on eighteen months of fieldwork in a municipality she calls by the fictional name Palmera to present a vivid account of the lives and thoughts of residents many of whom have lived inside the revolution for more than thirty five years In Palmera support for the socialist program remains strong Rosendahl attributes continuing loyalty to four conditions improvements in the standard of living from 1959 to 1990 the uniformity and omnipresence of political communications from the government a historical emphasis on local participation in the revolution and the consistency of revolutionary ideals with traditional machista expectations and practices Through an analysis of ideology and practice in contemporary Cuba Rosendahl documents how its citizens support the present political system and how reciprocal economics between households and ideas about gender both reinforce and challenge that system Rosendahl also explains how those who oppose state socialism resist participation in society through inaction or withdrawal Ethnology ,2006 Images of Malay-Indonesian Identity Michael Hitchcock,Victor T. King,1997 This book examines the ways in which certain national politicians ethnic groups and local communities in the Malay Indonesian world express their ethnicity and how their ethnicity is portrayed and identified by others whether they be near fellow citizens and the like or far Europeans for instance A full range of images relevant to Malay Indonesian selfhood is presented from symbols of national identity to those at the regional and local levels We are Playing Football Will Rollason, 2011 Sport is an important part of the lives of rural Papua New Guineans and a significant connection to global imaginaries for economically marginal villagers Such grassroots sport however is rarely studied and has never previously been the subject of an ethnographic monograph This book represents a pioneering study of the history and effects of grassroots sport in Papua New Guinea We Are Playing Football explores Panapompom people TM s attempts to recreate the international game and the social and subjective effects of this effort From a raw ethnographic starting point the book moves through historical and interpretive materials exploring the motives methods and results of Panapompom people TM s work to recreate global images of football and to turn them to their own political ends As the argument proceeds we see how playing football implicates Panapompom people in circuits of domination power and humiliation that tether them to colonial modes of control and derogatory racialist identities which they themselves reproduce in their communities From its effects on the most intimate self understanding through the embodied experience of playing football to the details of colonial history and the values and ideas underpinning community life this book offers an original and challenging assessment of what it means to be oeglobalised It charts the new outlooks and imaginaries the disruptions failures and disappointments and above all the vital synergies between different people that define the global situation of Panapompom people Pilipinas, 2004

Constructing Messapian Landscapes G.-J. L. M. Burgers, 1998 Over the last three decades archaeologists have progressively embarked on field walking projects all around the Mediterranean basin The aim of most of these projects is to investigate the ancient settlement and landscape dynamics of specific Mediterranean regions They greatly contribute to the new liveliness which characterizes present day classical archaeology not only by introducing new research methods but also and in particular by widening its subject matter to include the history of societies in the margins of the Graeco Roman urban world It is within this recent tradition that the present book has been written the author aims to examine the ancient settlement and societal dynamics of the Brindisi region in the north east of the Salento peninsula The field surveys indicate that during the pre Roman period the regional society was characterized by processes of centralization and urbanization Subsequently from the 3rd century BC onwards it gradually integrated into the Roman orbit Burgers emphasizes an active indigenous role in the successive colonial situations in southern Italy He focuses on the internal dynamics of the local communities and investigates how social strategies manifested themselves especially in external contacts and in the organization of settlement and landscape Worship and the Ceremonial Economy of a Royal South Indian Temple

Anthony Good, 2004 The temple of the god Kalugacalamurtti the local name for Murugan Siva s younger son is the largest economic enterprise in the town of Kalugumalai South India yet ostentatious display and devotionality loom far larger in the conduct of its affairs than economic rationality despite attempts at bureaucratic rationalism by successive governments This book describes this Hindu temple s complex patterns of public liturgy and private worship and explores the metaphysical themes which underlie them according to the Saiva Sidhhanta philosophy governing temple worship It shows how temple rituals portray and enact the sexuality kinship and regality of the gods It then recounts how temple economy and administration have changed over the past two centuries how groups and interests within Kalugumalai town challenged the temple s hegemony over their affairs and how and why the Rajas of Ettaiyapuram the temple s hereditary Trustees successfully resisted repeated government attempts to assume control of the temple over the past 50 years There have relatively few previous ethnographic studies of large Hindu temples and no other field worker has access to such detailed information     Antropologi i Finland ,1998     Pharos ,2002
