McClelland, Peter Tobin, 2009-12-15 Using recent polling results this book identifies the core economic components of the American Dream standard of living financial security and upward mobility The authors document the trend in each of these components over the last thirty years using figures trend lines and bar charts based upon the best available data Collectively this evidence has alarming implications for the economic fate of those at the bottom of the nation's income distribution. For that group as the authors show, the American Dream is dying.

Word On The Street John McWhorter, 2009-03-06. Though there is a contingent of linguists who fight the fact our language is always changing not only through slang but sound, syntax and words' meanings as well. Debunking the myth of pure standard English, tackling controversial positions and eschewing politically correct arguments, linguist John McWhorter considers speech patterns and regional accents to demonstrate just how the changes do occur. Wielding reason and humor, McWhorter ultimately explains why we must embrace these changes, ultimately revealing our American English in all its variety, expressiveness and power.

New York, 2001. Missouri Survivor: A Classroom Challenge! Carole Marsh, 2011-03-01. The Survivor GameBook is reproducible and allows kids to learn about their state through timed activities, prize suggestions and an official survivor certificate. The book includes timed multiple choice questions, fill in the blank questions, choose the appropriate dates and matching that are challenging and fun to answer. This book covers fascinating state facts and meets state standards.

Mixed Heritage Stefan Kiesbye, 2009. Behind each policy debate over welfare reform, AIDS funding and hate crime laws are the people struggling with poverty, illness and discrimination. While the experts cite statistics and employ rhetoric about drug abuse, crime and child abuse, individuals confront the horrors of addiction and the trauma of victimization. Greenhaven Press's Social Issues Firsthand series illuminates the often neglected human side of society's pressing problems. Each anthology presents a collection of personal narratives on a feature social issue. Contributors include those who have had personal experience with the topic under discussion, either as a participant, a witness or an involved professional. For example, Terrorism includes the perspectives of terrorists, victims, families of victims and emergency workers. Additional features include an introduction that provides each book with essential context, a thorough bibliography, a list of organizations to contact, an annotated table of contents and a thorough index. Each book in the Social Issues Firsthand series will provide readers with a personal context for the most pressing topics of today's political discussions.

Book jacket: But is it True? Aaron B. Wildavsky, 1995. We've eaten Alar with our apples and PCBs with our fish, drunk arsenic with our water, breathed asbestos in our schools. Someone sounded the alarm, someone else said we were safe and both had science on their side. Whom are we to trust? How are we to know? Amid this chaos of questions and conflicting information, Aaron Wildavsky arrives with just what the beleaguered citizen needs: a clear, fair and factual look at how the rival claims of environmentalists and industrialists work, what they mean and where to start sorting them out. Working with his students at a risk analysis center, Wildavsky examined all the evidence behind the charges and countercharges in several controversial cases involving environmental health and public safety. Here he lays out these cases in terms an average citizen can understand, weighs the merits of the claims of various parties and offers reasoned judgments on the government's response. From Love Canal to Times Beach, from DDT to Agent Orange, acid rain and global warming, from saccharin to asbestos, nuclear waste and radon, Wildavsky shows how we can achieve an informed understanding of the contentious environmental issues that confront us daily The book supports the conclusion Wildavsky reached himself both as a citizen committed to the welfare of the earth and its inhabitants and as a social scientist concerned with how public policy is made though it is bad to be harmed it is worse to be harmed in the name of health The Academy Letter, 1995 The New Republic Herbert David Croly, 2000 Hearst's International Combined with Cosmopolitan, 1928 Braille Books Library of Congress.
