Coastal Conservation And Management An Ecological Perspective:

Coastal Conservation and Management J. Pat Doody, 2012-12-06 Coastal Conservation and Management provides the reader with a synthesis of the range and variation of the main coastal formations and includes practical guidance on their management The book discusses all the main coastal habitats of importance for nature conservation saltmarsh shingle sand dune and seacliff as well as combinations of these habitats estuaries and other coastal wetlands It offers a comprehensive picture of both the soft sedimentary formations and those which are more resilient While these habitats have all been covered elsewhere in the literature no single volume gives such a wide ranging account An attempt is made throughout to provide the reader with a basic understanding of the importance and range of variation of each habitat and coastal ecosystem The principal issues are discussed and the key management options identified Some prescriptive suggestions are made though for the most part the reader is left to ponder the issues and their possible solutions

Coastal Conservation and Management J. Pat Doody, 2014-01-15 Encyclopedia of Coastal Science M. Schwartz, 2006-11-08 Honorable Mention Award for Excellence in Scholarly and Professional Publishing Maurice Schwartz Editor of the much acclaimed Encyclopedia of Beaches and Coastal Environments Hutchinson Ross 1982 has now brought forth a new volume with a fresh interdisciplinary approach that includes geomorphology ecology engineering technology oceanography and human activities as they relate to coasts Within its covers the Encyclopedia of Coastal Science includes many aspects of the coastal sciences that are only to be found scattered among scientific literature Being broadly interdisciplinary in its treatment of coasts the Encyclopedia of Coastal Science features contributions by 245 well known international specialists in their respective fields and is abundantly illustrated with line drawings and photographs Not only does this volume offer an extensive number of entries it also includes various appendices an illustrated glossary of coastal geomorphology and extensive bibliographic listings This Encyclopedia thus provides a comprehensive reference work for students professionals as well as informed lay readers

Saltmarsh Conservation, Management and Restoration J. P. Doody, 2008 This book series looks at each of the main coastal habitats salt marshes sand dunes and sand shingle shores modified coastal grazing marshes salinas and sea cliffs in turn Each habitat is described in relation to its natural development and the way this has been influenced by human actions The different states in which the habitats exist are reviewed against the pressures exerted upon them Options for management are considered and the likely consequences of taking a particular course of action are highlighted

Sand Dune Conservation, Management and Restoration J. Patrick Doody, 2012-09-18 This book deals with the development of temperate coastal sand dunes and the way these have been influenced by human activity The different states in which the habitat exists both for the beach foredune and inland dune are reviewed against the pressures exerted upon them Options for management are considered and the likely consequences of taking a particular course of action highlighted These options include traditional approaches to the conservation and management of wildlife and landscapes as well as habitat restoration

The way the value of the areas changes under different management regimes is considered mainly from an environmental perspective. Consideration is given to new approaches to management and restoration including adopting a more dynamic approach. Audience: This book will be of interest to academics, students and professionals concerned with policy formulation and/or actively managing coastal areas.

Marine and Coastal Resource Management David R. Green, Jeffrey L. Payne, 2017-09-27. In this new and highly original textbook for a range of interdisciplinary courses and degree programmes focusing on marine and coastal resource management, readers are offered an introduction to the subject matter, a broad perspective and understanding, case study applications and a reference source. Each chapter is written by an international authority and expert in the respective field, providing perspectives from physical and human geography, marine biology and fisheries, planning and surveying, law, technology, environmental change, engineering and tourism. In addition to an overview of the theory and practice of its subject area, many chapters include detailed case studies to illustrate the applications, including relationships to decision-making requirements at local, regional and national levels. Each chapter also includes a list of references for further reading, with a selection of key journal papers and URLs. Overall, this volume provides a key textbook for undergraduate and postgraduate courses and for the coastal or marine practitioner, as well as a long-term reference for students.

Coastal Conservation Brooke Maslo, Julie L. Lockwood, 2014-03-27. Coastal ecosystems are centres of high biological productivity but their conservation is often threatened by numerous and complex environmental factors. Citing examples from the major littoral habitats worldwide, such as sandy beaches, salt marshes and mangrove swamps, this text characterises the biodiversity of coastline environments and highlights important aspects of their maintenance and preservation, aided by the analysis of key representative species. Leaders in the field provide reviews of the foremost threats to coastal networks, including the effects of climate change, invasive species and major pollution incidents such as oil spills. Further discussion underscores the intricacies of measuring and managing coastline species in the field, taking into account the difficulties in quantifying biodiversity loss due to indirect cascading effects and trophic skew. Synthesising the current state of species richness with present and projected environmental pressures, the book ultimately establishes a research agenda for implementing and improving conservation practices moving forward.

Marine Conservation G. Carleton Ray, Jerry McCormick-Ray, 2013-10-11. Providing a guide for marine conservation practice, Marine Conservation takes a whole systems approach, covering major advances in marine ecosystem understanding. Its premise is that conservation must be informed by the natural histories of organisms, together with the hierarchy of scale-related linkages and ecosystem processes. The authors introduce a broad range of overlapping issues and the conservation mechanisms that have been devised to achieve marine conservation goals. The book provides students and conservation practitioners with a framework for thoughtful critical thinking in order to incite innovation in the 21st century. Marine Conservation presents a scholarly but eminently readable case for the necessity of a systems approach to conserving the oceans, combining superb introductions to the science law and policy frameworks with carefully chosen case studies This superb volume is a must for anyone interested in marine conservation from students and practitioners to lay readers and policy makers Simon Levin George M Moffett Professor of Biology Department of Ecology Evolutionary Biology Princeton University Coastal Management Revisited Bernhard Glaeser, Marion Glaser, 2023-01-31 The book presents an overview and historic perspectives of a novel scientific field coming of age today coastal and ocean management It covers diverse and changing issues ranging from conflict resolution to governance and ethical political imperatives natural disasters and climate change culminating in coastal and ocean typologies the basis for a future theory of coasts and oceans Eighteen chapters written by two main authors in cooperation with international experts review 25 years of research The authors address challenges to society related to global change issues that have been generated by human activity in both temperate Sweden Germany and the United States and tropical regions Brazil Indonesia Ultimately the book documents the maturation of a field and responds to changing societal needs and scientific outlooks It gathers recent analyses along with important earlier research with a foreword by Biliana Cicin Sain and Richard Delaney globally renowned as coastal and ocean experts in theory and practice Its broad approach makes the book a must read for graduate and postgraduate students as well as coastal management and marine spatial planning practitioners and for researchers in the fields of geography anthropology history of science human and social ecology and environmental and development studies Current Publications in Legal and Related Fields ,2003 Coastal Seas John R. Clark, 2009-07-15 This succinct technical reference of coastal zone resource management is aimed both at students taking courses in coastal management or marine conservation and practitioners in these fields In response to a worldwide demand Coastal Seas deals mostly with methodology and provides practitioners scholars and students with the ideas tools materials and strategies needed to manage coastal resources and shoreline development Although tropical developing nations have the greatest need for this book the principles are universal and will be of interest and relevance to all Provides a direction for conservation of coastal resources and marine biodiversity into the 21st century Suggests solutions to major conservation problems including pollution storm damage and beach erosion depletion of sea fisheries excessive shoreline development and destruction of essential habitats such as coral reefs and mangrove forests Gives practical advice to students and practitioners alike on coastal conservation methodology Presents the outcome of nineteen international coastal zone conservation case studies Discusses resource vulnerabilities design of coastal conservation programs methods and tools for conservation and sources of professional training Ecology and Management of Rare Plants Following Exotic Invasions in Riverside County, California Robert Douglas Cox, 2005 Planning and Management of the Coastal Heritage John Houston, Ceri Jones, 1990 The Zoological Record ,2003 California's Coastal Natural Hazards Lesley Ewing, Douglas Joel Sherman, 1998 Tracings 94 48 94 42 Review of Critical Marine Habitats and Species in the Pacific Islands Region Chris Bleakley, 2004 Restoration & Management Notes ,1997 Managing Impacts of
