The Bombing of Dublin's North Strand by German Luftwaffe Kevin C. Kearns,2009-10-16 On the Whit bank holiday weekend of 1941 the neutral Irish capital was suddenly and inexplicably bombed by the German Luftwaffe On a gloriously starry night four bombs fell the last and most devastating at precisely 2 05 a m on 31 May There was a thunderous explosion and the earth quaked Tremors were felt as far away as Enniskerry and Mullingar Panic and pandemonium reigned in a city seized with fear Destruction was astonishing homes and shops in the North Strand were largely demolished 2 250 buildings in the city suffered some bomb damage over forty people were killed about 100 seriously injured many more wounded Hospitals and morgues filled within hours Almost 2 000 people were rendered homeless refugees It would later be determined that in terms of destructive performance a monstrous perfect bomb had done the deed For two thirds of a century no book was written on what the Evening Herald proclaimed a Night of Horror Later called a seismic event in Dublin s history Finally near the end of the century both the Irish Military Archive and Dublin City Archive declassified their documents on the bombing some stamped Secret for sixty years At last the theories and myths long surrounding the mysterious incident would be examined in the light of real evidence But the heart of a book on so human a tragedy is the oral historical testimony of survivors rescuers and observers who provide graphic eyewitness accounts This is a narrative social history of immense human drama Dublin's Great Wars Richard S. Grayson,2018-08-23 For the first time Richard S Grayson tells the story of the Dubliners who served in the British military and in republican forces during the First World War and the Irish Revolution as a series of interconnected Great Wars He charts the full scope of Dubliners military service far beyond the well known Dublin Pals with as many as 35 000 serving and over 6 500 dead from the Irish Sea to the Middle East and beyond Linking two conflicts usually narrated as separate stories he shows how Irish nationalist support for Britain going to war in 1914 can only be understood in the context of the political fight for Home Rule and why so many Dubliners were hostile to the Easter Rising He examines Dublin loyalism and how the War of Independence and the Civil War would be shaped by the militarisation of Irish society and the earlier experiences of veterans of the British army Ireland Yesterday and Today Hugh Sutherland,1909 Galignani's Messenger ,1821 The Parliamentary Debates (official Report).
