Duduk And National Identity In Armenia:

The Duduk and National Identity in Armenia Andy Nercessian, 2001-08-28 The book is an outline of the Armenian duduk a cylindrical double reed aerophone made of apricot wood and its relation to the Armenian identity It attempts to deepen our understanding of musical instruments not only through an examination of musical and constructional features but also through the application of a sociocultural framework which allows a theorization of the idea of the instrument as social being The discussion is centered on the different contexts in which the duduk is played These are divided into two categories solo and ensemble Solo duduk performance includes the remarkable phenomenon of Armenian funeral music activity Other contexts include special celebrations of national culture duduk competitions the recording studio and the film music studio The main ensemble contexts of duduk performance are the Armenian folk orchestras These are essentially Soviet creations designed to advance folk music Their impact on folk music and folk musical life on Armenia is discussed with special attention to the adjustments which were necessary for the success of this institution Folk ensembles have long been emblems of Armenian national culture which might explain how they have survived the collapse of the Soviet Union and its Marxist Leninist policies which were these orchestras very raison d'être The book will appeal to anyone with an interest in organological theory Armenian culture or world music

Soviet Music and Society Under Lenin and Stalin Neil Edmunds, 2004-06 This book investigates the place of music in Soviet society during the eras of Lenin and Stalin It examines the different strategies adopted by composers and musicians in their attempts to carve out careers in a rapidly evolving society discusses the role of music in Soviet society and people's lives and shows how political ideology proved an inspiration as well as an inhibition It explores how music and politics interacted in the lives of two of the twentieth century's greatest composers Shostakovich and Prokofiev and also in the lives of less well known composers In addition it considers the specialist composers of early Soviet musical propaganda amateur music making and musical life in the non Russian republics The book will appeal to specialists in Soviet music history those with an interest in twentieth century music in general and also to students of the history culture and politics of the Soviet Union

Post-Soviet Armenia Irina Ghaplanyan, 2017-11-01 Following the collapse of the Soviet Union Armenia has struggled to establish itself with a faltering economy emigration of the intelligentsia and the weakening of civil society This book explores how a new national elite has emerged and how it has constructed a new national narrative to suit Armenia's new circumstances The book examines the importance of the Nagorno Karabakh conflict with Azerbaijan considers the impact of fraught relations with Turkey and the impact of relations with other neighbouring states including Russia and discusses the poorly developed role of the very large Armenian diaspora Overall the book provides a key overview to understanding the forces shaping all aspects of present day Armenia
