Memories and Postmemories of the Partition of India Anjali Roy, 2019-07-12 This book examines the afterlife of Partition as imprinted on the memories and postmemories of Hindu and Sikh survivors from West Punjab to foreground the intersection between history memory and narrative It shows how survivors script their life stories to reinscribe tragic tales of violence and abjection into triumphalist sagas of fortitude resilience industry enterprise and success At the same time it reveals the silences stutters and stammers that interrupt survivors narrations to bring attention to the untold stories repressed in their consensual narratives By drawing upon current research in history memory narrative violence trauma affect home nation borders refugees and citizenship the book analyzes the traumatizing effects of both the tangible and intangible violence of Partition by tracing the survivors journey from refugees to citizens as they struggle to make new homes and lives in an unhomey land Moreover arguing that the event of Partition radically transformed the notions of home belonging self and community it shows that individuals affected by Partition produce a new ethics and aesthetic of displacement and embody new ways of being in the world An important contribution to the field of Partition studies this book will be of interest to researchers on South Asian history memory partition and postcolonial studies Routledge hippies placing flowers in gun barrels the revolutionary sixties resonates around the world China's communist government inaugurated a new cultural era African nations won independence from colonial rule and students across Europe took to the streets calling for an end to capitalism imperialism and the Vietnam War In this innovative work James Meyer turns to art criticism theory memoir and fiction to examine the fascination with the long sixties and contemporary expressions of these cultural memories across the globe Meyer draws on a diverse range of cultural objects that reimagine this revolutionary era stretching from the 1950s to the 1970s including reenactments of civil rights antiwar and feminist marches paintings sculptures photographs novels and films Many of these works were created by artists and writers born during the long Sixties who were driven to understand a monumental era that they missed These cases show us that the past becomes significant only in relation to our present and our remembered history never perfectly replicates time past This Meyer argues is precisely what makes our contemporary attachment to the past so important it provides us a critical opportunity to examine our own relationship to history memory and nostalgia
