Dying President:

The Dying President Robert H. Ferrell,1998 In this authoritative account Robert H Ferrell shows how the treatment of President Franklin D Roosevelt s illness in 1944 1945 was managed by none other than the president himself Although this powerful American president knew that he suffered from cardiovascular disease he went to great lengths to hide that fact both from his physician and from the public Why Roosevelt disguised the nature of his illness may be impossible to discern fully He was a secretive man who liked to assign only parts of tasks to his assistants so that he the president would be the only one who knew the whole story The presidency was his life and he did not wish to give it up The president s duplicity though not easily measurable had a critical effect on his performance Placed on a four hour a day schedule by his physicians Roosevelt could apply very little time to his presidential duties He took long vacations in South Carolina Warm Springs the Catocin Mountains and Hyde Park as well as lengthy journeys to Hawaii Canada and Yalta Important decisions were delayed or poorly made America s policy toward Germany was temporarily abandoned in favor of the so called Morgenthau Plan which proposed the pastoralization of Germany turning the industrial heart of Europe into farmland Roosevelt nearly ruined the choice of Senator Harry S Truman as his running mate in 1944 by wavering in the days prior to the party s national convention He negotiated an agreement with Winston Churchill on sharing postwar development of nuclear weapons but failed to let the State Department know And in perhaps the most profoundly unwise decision Roosevelt accepted a fourth term when he could not possibly survive it In his final year a year in which he faced crucial responsibility regarding World War II and American foreign policy Franklin D Roosevelt failed to serve the nation as a healthy president would have Reading like a mystery story The Dying President clears up many of the myths and misunderstandings that have surrounded Roosevelt s last year finally revealing the truth about this missing chapter in FDR s life The Fate of FDR Peter Carson,2012 On 12 April 1945 the US 32nd President and greatest wartime leader Franklin D Roosevelt died suddenly He had had a stroke What caused the stroke has remained a medical mystery that has continued to perplex both historians and doctors to this day This book re visits and re evaluates the evidence Our Martyred President as a Man ...
