

The "hit count" from those searches is summarized in the table below. After the initial list was generated, we cross-checked the citations against the reference list of several major review works that had been published in the preceding five years (e.g., Rex Hudson's "The Psychology and Sociology of Terrorism") and included potentially relevant references that were not already on the list. Finally, the list was submitted to the three senior academic consultants on the project: Dr. Martha Crenshaw (Wesleyan University), Dr. John Horgan (University College, Cork), and Dr. Andrew Silke (UK Home Office) soliciting recommendations based only on relevance (not merit) as to whether any of the citations listed should be removed and whether they knew of others that met the criteria that should be added. Reviews mainly suggested additions (rarely recommending removal) to the list. Revisions were made in response to reviewer comments, and the remaining comprised our final citation list.

Dynamics in Psychology (Paper) W. Kohler,1972 Collected Papers Johns Hopkins University. School of Hygiene and Public Health,1920 Collected Papers ,1920 Consists of reprints of articles from various journals Papers of the Michigan Academy of Science, Arts, and Letters Michigan Academy of Science, Arts, and Letters,1926 Vols 1 53 contain papers submitted at the annual meetings in 1921 1967 Parliamentary Papers Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons,1906 Complex Dynamical Systems in Education Matthijs Koopmans,Dimitrios Stamovlasis,2016-02-19 This book capitalizes on the developments in dynamical systems and education by presenting some of the most recent advances in this area in seventeen non overlapping chapters The first half of the book discusses the conceptual framework of complex dynamical systems and its applicability to educational processes The second half presents a set of empirical studies that that illustrate the use of various research methodologies to investigate complex dynamical processes in education and help the reader appreciate what we learn about dynamical processes in education from using these approaches Informative Psychometric Filters Robert A. M. Gregson,2006-08-01 This book is a series of case studies with a common theme Some refer closely to previous work by the author but contrast with how they have been treated before and some are new Comparisons are drawn using various sorts of psychological and psychophysiological data that characteristically are particularly nonlinear non stationary far from equilibrium and even chaotic exhibiting abrupt transitions that are both reversible and irreversible and failing to meet metric properties A core idea is that both the human organism and the data analysis procedures used are filters that may variously preserve transform distort or even destroy information of significance Examination Papers McGill University,1905 The American Year Book ,1914 Collected Papers: Papers on metapsychology ; Papers on applied psycho-analysis Sigmund Freud,1925 Human Factors Engineering and Ergonomics Stephen J. Guastello,2013-12-19 Although still true to its original focus on the person machine interface the field of human factors psychology ergonomics has expanded to include stress research accident analysis and prevention and nonlinear dynamical systems theory how systems change over time human group dynamics and environmental psychology Reflecting new developments in the field Human Factors Engineering and Ergonomics A Systems Approach Second Edition addresses a wide range of human factors and ergonomics principles found in conventional and twenty first century technologies and environments Based on the author s thirty years of experience the text emphasizes fundamental concepts systems thinking the changing nature of the person machine interface and the dynamics of systems as they change over time See What s New in the Second Edition Developments in working memory degrees of freedom in cognitive processes subjective workload decision making and situation awareness Updated information on cognitive workload and fatigue Additional principles for HFE networks multiple person machine systems and human robot swarms Accident analysis and prevention includes resilience new developments in safety climate and an update to the inventory of accident prevention techniques and their relative effectiveness Problems in big data mining Psychomotor control and its relevance to human robot systems Navigation in real world environment Trust in automation and augmented cognition Computer technology permeates every aspect of the human machine system and has only become more ubiquitous since the previous edition The systems are becoming more complex so it should stand to reason that theories need to evolve to cope with the new sources of complexity While many books cover traditional topics and theory they do not focus on the practical problems students will face in the future With broad coverage that ranges from physical ergonomics to cognitive aspects of human machine interaction and includes dynamic approaches to system failure this book increases the number of methods and analytical tools that are available for the human factors researcher
