The Bombing of Dublin's North Strand by German Luftwaffe Kevin C. Kearns, 2009-10-16 On the Whit bank holiday weekend of 1941 the neutral Irish capital was suddenly and inexplicably bombed by the German Luftwaffe On a gloriously starry night four bombs fell the last and most devastating at precisely 2 05 a m on 31 May There was a thunderous explosion and the earth quaked Tremors were felt as far away as Enniskerry and Mullingar Panic and pandemonium reigned in a city seized with fear Destruction was astonishing homes and shops in the North Strand were largely demolished 2 250 buildings in the city suffered some bomb damage over forty people were killed about 100 seriously injured many more wounded Hospitals and morgues filled within hours Almost 2 000 people were rendered homeless refugees It would later be determined that in terms of destructive performance a monstrous perfect bomb had done the deed For two thirds of a century no book was written on what the Evening Herald proclaimed a Night of Horror Later called a seismic event in Dublin s history Finally near the end of the century both the Irish Military Archive and Dublin City Archive declassified their documents on the bombing some stamped Secret for sixty years At last the theories and myths long surrounding the mysterious incident would be examined in the light of real evidence But the heart of a book on so human a tragedy is the oral historical testimony of survivors rescuers and observers who provide graphic eyewitness accounts This is a narrative social history of immense human drama
