Realism and Symbolism of Light-reflections in the Art of Albrecht Dürer and His Predecessors* Jan Bialostocki,1988 Exhibition of Albert Dürer's Engravings, Etchings, and Dry-points, and Most of the Woodcuts Executed from His Designs Museum of Fine Arts, Boston. Print Department,Museum of Fine Arts, Boston. Print Dept,1888 Invisible Terrain Stephen Joseph Ross,2017 Stephen J Ross examines the concept of nature in the work of John Ashbery Through close readings of Ashbery s poetry and critical prose he reveals Ashbery s work to be a case study of the dramatic transformation of nature in art and literature since World War II The Collected Poems of Barbara Guest Barbara Guest,2013-09-01 Winner of the SFSU Poetry Center Book Award 2010 One of the most notable members of the New York School and its best known woman Barbara Guest began writing poetry in the 1950s in company that included John Ashbery Kenneth Koch Frank O Hara and James Schuyler And from the beginning her practice placed her at the vanguard of American writing Guest s poetry saturated in the visual arts extended the formal experiments of modernism and played the abstract qualities of language against its sensuousness and materiality. Now for the first time all of her published poems have been brought together in one volume offering readers and scholars unprecedented access to Guest's remarkable visionary work. This Collected Poems moves from her early New York School years through her more abstract later work including some final poems never before published. Switching effortlessly from the real to the dreamlike, the observed to the imagined, this is poetry both gentle and piercing, seemingly simple but truly and beautifully dislocating.

An Essay in Asterisks Jena Osman, 2004. Poetry. This is the third full-length book of poetry from Jena Osman following her highly praised work The Character published by Beacon Press. Osman teaches in the graduate Creative Writing Program at Temple University in Philadelphia and co-edits the literary arts journal CHAIN with Juliana Spahr. Unimaginable is a word I think of a lot when reading Jena Osman's poetry. Rather like the optical illusion of the face vase silhouette, Osman's work proceeds exactly through this process of making the unimaginable obvious, forcing us to rethink the entire project of the poem and our lives from the ground up.

Ron Silliman A Picture-feeling Renee Gladman, 2005. Poetry. African American studies. Postulating a new age of iron with these highly wrought lines, Renee Gladman questions how we experience our life and times: what is real and what is fantasy. She combines elements of narrative with an attention towards words and letters that reminds us how much her usual practice of fiction is informed by her sense of poetry. Like wrought iron itself, these graceful, unpredictable patterns stand out against the stark day, the vivid black unseeing. Here a landscape is created and taken apart.

Sonnetailia Marc Nasdor, 2007. Sonnetailia is an interlinked series of poems written in a form called the sonnetail. It is the author's questionable attempt at mass-producing a modified, appendaged sonnet that defeats even the appearance of unifying quantum mechanics, general relativity, and blank verse. With Cassandra-like exasperation, the author picks through humanity's digestive tract in a colonoscopic romp through a cultural and political blast zone strewn with turns of tongue, turns of phrase, good turns, and five-car pileups that navigate the worlds of ecstatic pluralism in a chaptered, contrapuntal polyphony.

Cheerleader's Guide to the World Stacy Doris, 2006. Poetry. In the way that Little Nemo never quite reaches his dreamland, desires the team players in Stacy Doris' cultural guide will never finish their game. They and we are suspended in the animated crackle of a postnuclear mythology. Classic texts, Mayan, Tibetan, New Jerseyan, are re-released as videogame. What is the job of an ancient lineage when future ancestries are bound to be bioengineered? Read this book for the stats and scores.

Jena Osman, Stacy Doris books written in English include Knot, CONFERENCE, PARAMOUR, and KILDARE. Written in French are Parliament and semi-anonymously LA vie de Chester. Steven Wiener wrote par sa femme and Une annee a New York avec Chester. He has co-edited three collections of French poetry translated by American poets and she is an assistant professor of Creative Writing at San Francisco State University.

Folly Nada Gordon, 2007. Poetry. It would be folly to praise this book and folly not to. Nada Gordon is on her way to inventing a new type of poetry in which Pre-Raphaelitism meets Zeppo Marx while doing the hokey pokey to a fox trot beat. Wit and lyric exuberance are a means to an end that refuses to name itself Trips trespass and trepidation rule this universe of hopeful play and endearing insouciance The world grows dark but here are songs to keep us from losing our lights Charles Bernstein Kluge: a Meditation Brian Kim Stefans, 2007 Poetry Brian Kim Stefans KLUGE is cultural karaoke It takes the last two decades two centuries of poetry making strategies and super texts them under our live dramas of the original language KLUGE programs the pulleys and levers in the wings of our cultural machinations KLUGE Track s this spot to the edge of town to a hut with windows KLUGE like Ashbery s THE SKATERS glides us through the snow of discord and arrives at a new general understanding I am a uh a situation and I am only uh also a byproduct KLUGE will give you faith in poetry as a culture making tool even if you don t know the words hum Robert Fitterman Cleavage Chris Tysh, 2004 Poetry CLEAVAGE is erotic intelligent self aware and acutely conscious with ahothouse femme expertise Vernacular and current literary and erudite Tysh s references serve her immediate images in one deft sketch after another showing us women in their most intimate relations to themselves their lives and circumstances Tysh is possessed of a singular sensual intellect now fully mature and going at full throttle Johanna Drucker Tysh born and raised in Paris a student of American literature at the Sorbonne author of a critical study of Allen Ginsberg was naturalized as a U S citizen in 1998 She teaches writing and women s studies at Wayne State University in Detroit She is a 2003 National Endowment for the Arts fellow Conjunctions Bradford Morrow, 2006-12-15 Conjunctions 47 Twenty fifth Anniversary Issue ISBN 0 941964 63 9 978 0 941964 63 0 Paperback 6 x 9 in 400 pgs U S 15 00 CDN 18 00 December Literature The Front K. Silem Mohammad, 2009 Poetry Flarf Kenny Goldsmith said that K Silem Mohammad is the Andy Warhol of contemporary poetry acutely scraping the bottom of the cultural barrel with such prescience precision and sensitivity that we are forced to reevaluate the nature of the language engulfing us Our first impulse is to flee to deny its worth to turn away from it to write it off as a big joke but as with Warhol s car crashes or electric chairs we are equally entranced entertained and repulsed we can t stop looking This is important and beautiful work but not in the way we ve come to expect It s a double edged sword that Mohammad is holding against our necks forcing us to look at ourselves in the blade s reflection with equal doses of swooning narcissism and white knuckled fear Bob Perelman understands Kasey s work through the chance operations with which he derives his vocabulary Of those infinite monkeys chained to those infinite typewriters which one actually came up with King Lear At first it looks like one of those conundrums that ll never be solved But with K Silem Mohammad s THE FRONT we catch a glimpse of a method that just might move us in a fruitful direction First take all the language on the web it s not infinity but it s what we ve got for the moment then stand exposed to those howling social gales If you want to know what it feels like to lose sovereignty go to THE FRONT
