Dutch For Travellers:

Travelling the Dutch East Indies Rick Honings e.a.,2022-12-14 In 1594 the first Dutch ships sailed to the East Throughout the seventeenth and eighteenth century almost five thousand ships were sent to the Dutch East Indies attracting a growing number of travellers with trade as one of the major incentives In addition to Dutch missionary ambitions progress and technological innovations not only fed the growing hunger for expansion but also stirred an appetite for adventure The hope for a life in welfare is mirrored in the growing numbers of passengers travelling East in the nineteenth century and the first half of the twentieth century At the same time Javanese travellers started to explore their homeland as well Travelling the Dutch East Indies not only offers a diverse picture of travel and a critical perspective on the colonial ideology with which it is associated but also shows how the collections of Leiden University Libraries can serve as a rich source for all kinds of historical research

Travel Writing in Dutch and German, 1790-1930 Alison Martin,Lut Missinne,Beatrix van Dam,2017-01-06 This volume focuses on how travel writing contributed to cultural and intellectual exchange in and between the Dutch and German speaking regions from the 1790s to the twentieth century interwar period Drawing on a hitherto largely overlooked body of travelers whose work ranges across what is now Germany and Austria the Netherlands and Dutch speaking Belgium the Dutch East Indies and Suriname the contributors highlight the interrelations between the regional and the global and the role alterity plays in both spheres They therefore offer a transnational and transcultural perspective on the ways in which the foreign was mediated to audiences back home By combining a narrative perspective on travel writing with a socio historically contextualized approach essays emphasize the importance of textuality in travel literature as well as the self positioning of such accounts in their individual historical and political environments The first sustained analysis to focus specifically on these neighboring cultural and linguistic areas this collection demonstrates how topographies of knowledge were forged across these regions by an astonishingly diverse range of travelling individuals from professional scholars and writers to art dealers soldiers female explorers and scientific collectors The contributors address cultural aesthetic political and gendered aspects of travel writing drawing productively on other disciplines and areas of scholarly research that encompass German Studies Low Countries Studies comparative literature aesthetics the history of science literary geography and the history of publishing
