Dykstra's War Jeffery D. Kooistra, 2000 After aliens came at the end of the 21st century James Dykstra the Einstein of his time is called upon to save humanity      Christian Faith and Violence 2 , 2019-12-30 Volumes 10 and 11 of Studies in Reformed Theology consist of the texts written for the fifth international conference of the International Reformed Theological Institute IRTI which was dedicated to the theme Christian Faith and Violence Specific theological questions were at the core of the discussions e.g. what does violence imply for the doctrine of God How to deal with biblical stories and commands that often contain an overwhelmingly violent character What about applying christian ethics in situations of violence that we are exposed to What is our calling in situations of oppression and a longing for liberation and justice

The Rise of the Cyberzines: The Story of the Science-Fiction Magazines from 1991 to 2020 Mike Ashley, 2022-02-15 Shortlisted for the Locus Science Fiction Foundation Non Fiction Award 2023 The Rise of the Cyberzines concludes Mike Ashley's five volume series which has tracked the evolution of the science fiction magazine from its earliest days in the 1920s to its current explosion via the internet This series has traced the ways in which the science fiction magazine has reacted to the times and often led the way in breaking down barriers for example in encouraging a greater contribution by women writers and stimulating science fiction globally Magazines have continued to build upon past revolutions such as the new wave and cyberpunk producing a blend of high tech science fiction and expansive speculative fiction that has broadened the understanding of science and its impact on society This final volume which covers the years 1991-2020 shows how the online magazine has superseded the print magazine and has continued to break down barriers especially for the LGBTQ community and for writers of colour      Denominational Higher Education during World War II John J. Laukaitis, 2018-08-25 This book examines how World War II affected denominational colleges who faced a national crisis in relationship to their Christian tenets and particular religious communities and student bodies With denominational positions ranging from justifying the war in light of the existential threat that the United States faced to maintaining long held beliefs of nonviolence the multitude of institutional positions taken during World War II speaks to the scope of religious diversity within Christian higher education and the central issues of faith and service to God and country Ultimately Laukaitis provides a particular lens to analyze the history of higher education during World War II through an examination of denominational institutions The relationship between higher education faith and war offers depth to understanding the role of denominational colleges in articulating theological interpretations of war and their sense of responsibility as Christian liberal arts institutions in the United States      Restraint In Urban Warfare: The Canadian Attack On Groningen, Netherlands, 13-16 April 1945 Major Jeffrey D. Noll U.S. Army, 2014-08-15 Urban terrain presents significant tactical challenges to attacking armies limiting weapons effects and mobility while disrupting formations and command and control The human terrain in cities creates a tactical dilemma placing large civilian populations in close proximity to the fighting The issue of restraint in urban warfare has been described as a modern phenomenon with urban warfare in World War II characterized as unlimited In April 1945 however the Canadian Army limited its firepower while attacking the city of Groningen Netherlands to limit damage and civilian casualties This thesis examines the reasons for these restraints and the methods used to balance those restraints with accomplishment of the mission The Canadians limited their use of force for political reasons based on intent from the British They accomplished their mission due to intelligence gained from the friendly population local fire superiority gained by tanks and flamethrowers and the ineffectiveness of the poorly organized and equipped German defense This thesis provides a historical case study of the reasons for restraint in urban warfare and the tactical challenges associated with such limitations
