Dynamic Human Resource Systems Crossnational Comparisons:

Dynamic Human Resource Systems James P. Begin, 2014-12-11 The goal of this work was to use these cross national comparisons to better understand how human resource policies operate to affect firm performance not as individual practices but as bundles of interacting practices that have positive effects on both productivity and the quality of life of workers

Comparative Human Resource Management Michael J. Morley, Noreen Heraty, 2021-06-29 Context is increasingly recognised as a critical explanatory variable in accounting for commonalities and differences in human resource management Giving expression to it in research models holds the prospect of enhancing theory development deepening our appreciation of embedded practices in diverse territories and opening up new lines of enquiry However contextualisation presents a significant research challenge and increasingly international academic research networks that bring together scholars from different countries in the co production of knowledge represent a key approach to rising to this challenge This volume documents aspects of the development of one such network namely the Cranet Network on International Human Resource Management and presents a series of recent contributions from the network The chapters highlight inter alia the limits to convergence in human resource management as a result of contextual determinism the role of institutional actors markets and work regulation in accounting for variations in practices the contextual specificities and dynamics at play in transition economies along with key methodological challenges that arise when seeking to build cumulative comparative knowledge via network collaborations of this nature The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of International Studies of Management Organization

Differences and Similarities Between International and Domestic Human Resource Management Timo Beck, 2011-03 Scientific Essay from the year 2010 in the subject Business economics Personnel and Organisation grade 1 0 University of St Andrews course Managing People in Global Markets language English abstract The primary cause of failure in multinational ventures stem from a lack of understanding of the essential differences in managing human resources in foreign environments Desatnick and the quality of management seems to be even more critical in international than in domestic operations e g Monks et al 2001 Due to the importance of the topic there has been a significant amount of research on IHRM in recent years Some of the major debates are concerned with the development of models and concepts of strategic international human resource management SIHRM e g Schuler Tariq 2007 and the question whether successful domestic HR strategies can be applied in a global context e g Schuler Jackson 2007 162 The aim of this essay is to compare domestic human resource management DHRM with the concept of IHRM After briefly defining the key terms the author with outline both concepts and identify all major similarities and differences At the end some final conclus
